Viaduct Route Shown Important to Kingston

Many Cars Still Use Old Road

Traffic Count Is Reported by State

Continued importance of the Washington Avenue artery of travel in the city is indicated in state public works traffic count totals made available today.

They show that more than half of the traffic, which used the viaduct and narrow Esopus Creek Bridge before opening in July, 1960 of the arterial route system, still continues there.

Kurt G. Rauer, district state public works engineer at Poughkeepsie, noted that a 12-hour traffic count on a December day in 1958 showed 6,800 vehicles clocked, and one on March 6, this year, showed 3,736 still using the narrow bridge and nearly half-century-old railroad overpass.

Preliminary plans for razing the viaduct, which entails replacement of the bridge, are under way in compliance with a Public Service Commission order and they involve consideration of a detour route to permit continuance of travel directly to and from the uptown area.

Prefer It to Spur
The traffic counts earlier this month also showed that more vehicles are using the viaduct than are traveling on the arterial route spur, which was officially opened last July 25. The March 6 count clocked 3,200 vehicles using the spur as compared to 3,736 taking the viaduct and bridge route.

Traffic counts over a longer period could reveal a fluctuation between viaduct and arterial route travel, but the comparison between the single day in 1958 and that of this month serves to show that the Washington Avenue route is still an important one and undoubtedly will continue to be so after razing of the viaduct and replacement of the bridge.

About Double in 1959
A traffic count taken in the fall of 1959, which was a considerable time after the IBM plant moved to the area, showed that travel over the bridge and

Ordered to Make Strong Effort on Nuclear Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean leaves here today for Geneva with instructions from President Kennedy to make a determined effort to conclude a nuclear weapons test ban treaty with the Soviet Union at the earliest possible moment.

The negotiation to be resumed at Geneva a week from today probably will be the climactic—possibly the final—round of a conference which started 2½ years ago.

Administration officials are hopeful but not outspokenly optimistic about the success of Dean's mission.

Could Open Way
The nuclear test negotiation, if successful, could open the way to broader agreements in the disarmament field and lead to bringing the nuclear arms race under some kind of international control. Success also would contribute to a considerable easing of East-West tensions and the prospect of generally improved relations between the Soviet Union and the Western powers.

Failure in the test ban conference, however, would almost certainly result in a resumption of the testing of nuclear weapons which has been barred by an informal moratorium since the conference started in the fall of 1958.

Told to Be Patient
Administration policy makers estimate that Dean and his British counterpart in the three-power conference should be able to find out in six or eight weeks whether the Soviet government is seriously interested in concluding a treaty.

President Kennedy has decided against setting any kind of precise deadline and he is understood to have counseled Dean to use patience in dealing with the Soviets. But the President also is reported to feel the United States cannot afford to let the conference drag on indefinitely in the absence of substantial progress toward final agreement.

May Make Tests in Saugerties

Interest Is Reported By Firm in Shale Land

Test borings may start soon on another large tract of land in the Churchland-Mt. Marion area in the Town of Saugerties for the establishment of an industrial plant by a prominent Hudson Valley corporation.

Area Gets Three Inches of Snow, 10 for Saratoga

Only minor mishaps marred area traffic today as a heavy, wet snow reached three inches locally and as much as 10 inches in other sections of the state.

Ulster County Highway trucks began salting operations at 9 p. m. Monday and at 5 a. m. today plows were dispatched.

All routes were expected to be cleared by mid-day, a report from the county highway department disclosed.

No Utility Damage
No storm damage was reported by the New York Telephone Co., Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., or Kingston Cablevision.

Saratoga County, in the West Milton area, took the brunt of the state's new fall—with a reported 10 inches. Eight inches blanketed Albany, Cobleskill and the Gloversville areas while Tannersville in the Catskills measured seven.

The Weather Bureau predicted the sticky mixture would taper off this afternoon in most sections, and early tonight in the northeast. In some areas, rain quickly reduced the snow carpet. In others, the rain froze.

Other snow measurements included: Glens Falls 6 inches; Syracuse, Rome, Oneonta and Plattsburgh areas 4; Middletown, Ellenville, Rochester and Utica 3; Binghamton 2; Buffalo, a trace.

Thruway Speed Cut
The State Thruway set a 35-mile speed limit from New York City to Canajoharie. The Thruway reported rain from New York City to Newburgh.

Sentencing of 3 Local Men Put Off Till 20th

Imposition of sentence on three Kingston men convicted in Sullivan County of unlawful entry and possession of burglary tools, has been postponed at Monticello until March 20.

The postponement was taken Monday afternoon in the cases of Peter Gerald Suski, 27, who formerly resided on Albany Avenue; Benjamin Thomas Hamilton, 27, of 17 Lisa Lane, and Michael G. Christoforo, 23, of 350 Broadway.

Christoforo is one of the three men nabbed by local police authorities early Friday morning at the Pine Grove Manufacturing Co., Inc., 45 Pine Grove Avenue, here, and charged with third degree burglary. He was being held under $25,000 bail.

Christoforo, Suski and Hamilton were arrested last July by Sullivan County state troopers after their car was found parked on a side street near the post office and business establishments at Kiamasha Lake. In the car troopers found a pry bar, screw driver and tools which the authorities described as burglar tools. On trial, the three men were convicted of unlawful entry and possession of burglar tools. The jury deliberated six hours before returning the guilty verdict.

Four Parcels Mentioned
Informed sources have indicated that the properties of Gippert, Sachs, Lynch and Doyle are being considered.

The land along the creek is reportedly rich in shale deposits. The options would permit test borings.

Unconfirmed reports indicated that the firm interested in the properties may possibly want the land to establish a lightweight aggregate plant similar to the one now under construction by Hudson Valley Lightweight Aggregate Corp. on the 42-acre former Kaminski tract.

The Trap Rock Corp. is one of the largest suppliers of crushed stone for building material in the Hudson Valley.

May Be Ready in Spring
The Hudson Valley Lightweight Aggregate Corp., has been working on its plant when weather permits and is pointing toward completion of its plant at the former Kaminski property by July.

Preliminary plans call for the realignment of a town road connecting the plant with the Kings Highway (Saugerties-Mt. Marion Road). Saugerties Town Board at a recent meeting granted permission for the realignment, the cost of which will be borne by the corporation.

Plant machinery is reportedly completed and awaiting shipping orders.

Working on Kiln
One of five huge kilns for processing the aggregate produce is now under construction by Taylor Engineering Company at Al-lentown, Pa. Long-range plans of the corporation call for the construction of five kilns.

Prior to the recent snow storms land fill operations were underway for the firm's railroad siding which must be completed before equipment can be brought to the plant site.

The firm will produce a lightweight aggregate to be used in the manufacture of masonry units and structural concrete.

Pilot With 4,600 Hours Has Close Call in Fiery Crash

FREMONT, N.C. (AP)—A veering Air Force pilot rode his crippled jet trainer to a fiery crash Monday night and lived.

"Gee! I'm really lucky," Capt. J. G. Petit said repeatedly in the emotional aftermath of the crash on a farm about 4 miles east of here.

When medical personnel removed his orange-colored flight suit to treat a broken leg, his only serious injury, the 40-year-old pilot asked for his rosary, which was in a pocket of the suit.

Capt. Petit's T33 jet flamed out at 11,500 feet on take-off from Seymour Johnson Air Force Base for a return flight to Griffiss AFB, Rome, N.Y., where he is assigned to the 49th Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

"He tried the regulation four to six air starts with no luck," said Capt. Jerry Holland, Air Force Public Information Officer who

Employee Coverage Bill Signed

100,000 Will Get Sick Disability

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller signed an administration bill today that extends sickness - disability coverage under workmen's compensation to about 100,000 persons in organizations that have only one employee.

Another Rockefeller proposal — state participation in an expanded federal program of publicly supported medical care for the aged—was passed unanimously in the Assembly Monday night. The bill's prospects appeared bright in the Senate.

Rockefeller, in his annual message, urged the Legislature to extend disability coverage which is granted in cases of sickness and disability not connected with employment.

Would Help 92,000
The medical care proposal would extend benefits to 92,000 New Yorkers over 65 not now covered.

It would include elderly persons capable of supporting themselves but unable to pay their medical bills. Most of the $115-million cost of the program in the state would be paid by the federal government.

Other Action on Bills

Other action on bills included: The Senate passed and sent to the Assembly a measure to require seat-belt attachment points in all new automobiles sold in New York State after June 30, 1962.

The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate two bills dealing with chauffeur's licenses. One would permit the state motor vehicle commissioner to grant limited licenses to taxi-drivers and others who must drive to earn a living but whose regular licenses had been suspended or revoked. The limited licenses would be valid only for work.

The other bill would exempt farmers from a new state law requiring drivers of large trucks to have chauffeur's licenses.

Bill on Ambulances
A bill to set up state inspection and control of commercial ambulances was passed in the Assembly by a 126-22 vote after stiff debate. The measure now goes to the Senate.

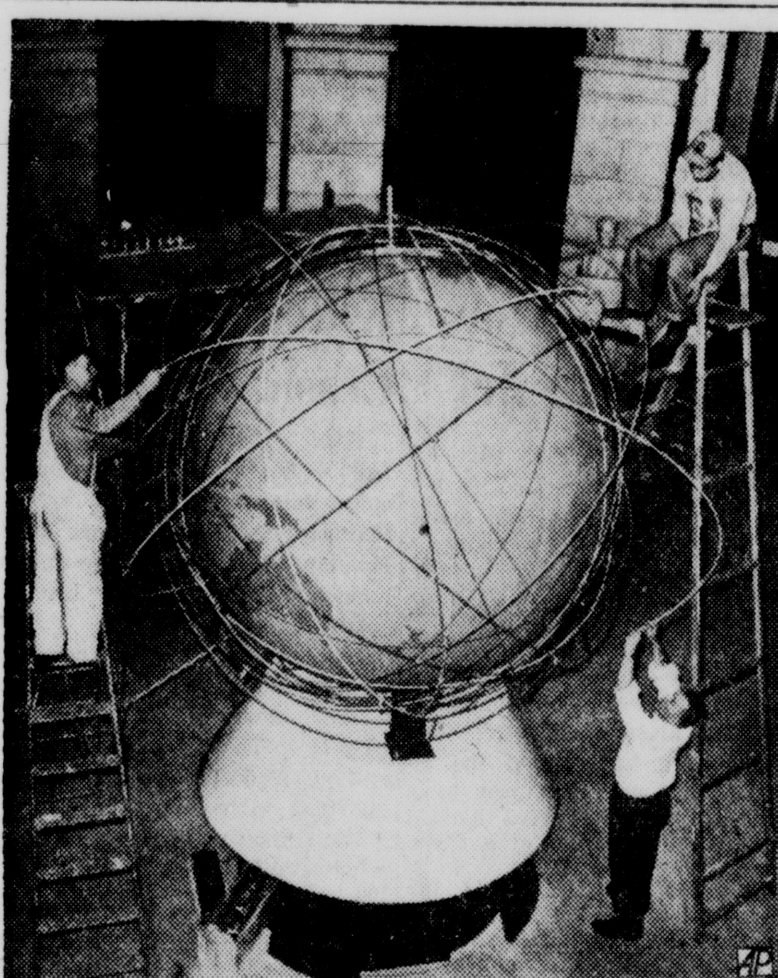

Legislation to require the Public Health Council to conduct public hearings on proposed changes in the state sanitary code was passed by the Assembly and sent to the governor. The council came under attack recently after it banned, without public hearings, the retail sale of raw milk.

The Senate approved and sent to the Assembly a measure that would designate Interstate Route 535 as the North-South Freeway. The superhighway — which has been called the Penn-Can, the Empire Stateway and the North-South Expressway — runs from the Pennsylvania-New York line near Binghamton to the Canadian border near Alexandria Bay.

Measure on Mortgages
Savings banks would be allowed to grant mortgages up to 90 per cent of the assessed valuation of property, under an Assembly-passed bill that was sent to the Senate. The present maximum is 80 per cent.

The Assembly approved a proposed constitutional amendment

Population Growth Cited

Industry, Commerce Is Increasing in Valley

"A significant transformation" of the Central Hudson Valley in recent years into a region "in which industry and commerce have become major elements in the economy," was cited by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation Board Chairman Ernest R. Acker and President Lelan F. Sillin Jr. in the utility's annual report to stockholders for 1960.

The report was mailed to the company's 18,376 registered holders of common stock and 3,394 preferred stockholders yesterday. It reported increases in sales, revenues, income and earnings for last year over 1959.

Evidence of the changing complexion of the region, according to the report is found in the population growth rate in the valley which was more than twice as large as the figure for New York State and one-and-a-half times as great as the nation as a whole between the 1950 and 1960 censuses.

Report Reflects Good Economy

The utility executives reported that the company's "excellent results" for 1960 reflect the generally good economic conditions prevailing in the valley throughout most of the year "as well as the company continuing efforts to control costs." They added, "Although in the latter part of 1960 our business was affected to some extent by the nationwide economic slowdown, we are encouraged by recent business forecasts and look with confidence to improved conditions" in 1961.

Looking to the future, the report cites the $22 million Newburgh-Beacon Bridge and the $12 million

Poughkeepsie arterial highway as two projects initiated in 1960 that "will be highly important to the continued economic development of the region." It noted Governor Rockefeller's statement that the new bridge and its highway connections "will stimulate the commercial and industrial development of Newburgh and Beacon, of Orange and Dutchess counties"

Greek Orthodox Parish Is Organized for Area

It was announced this week that the formal organization and incorporation of a Greek Orthodox parish for the City of Kingston and surrounding area had been completed. This parish is under the jurisdiction of the Greek Archdiocese of North and South America and received its charter allowing the local group to proceed with plans for building a church in this community.

This parish will serve approximately 100 Greek Orthodox families in this area and an unknown number of other ethnic groups who are members of the Eastern Orthodox Church.

The Greek Orthodox Church is the second largest Christian faith having a total of 250 million communicants. This church adheres to the ancient traditions of Christianity and comes under the jurisdiction of the Ecumenical Patriarch in Constantinople.

The first Greek Orthodox Church in the United States was in 1866 in New Orleans, La. The growth of this church in the United States was quite slow until 1921. From 1921 to the present hundreds of churches have been opened throughout North and South America.

The local organization was started last year and the board of directors were elected for the important organizational phases.

The officers and directors are: Christus J. Larios, president; George Kakoulis, vice president; George Georgialis, secretary; Sam Mathews, treasurer; directors — George Moutis, Charles Athans, John Trataros, James Evangelou, George Koulos, William Frangis, Peter Kouvarides, Michael Philip.

The local group hopes to commence a building fund drive in the very near future. In the meantime there is a possibility of obtaining a parish priest and holding Holy Week services this year for the first time in this area.

All persons interested in the church may contact the Greek Orthodox Community, Box 62, UPO, Kingston, New York.

10-Year Plan Is Advocated

Urgency Noted In Plea to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today urged Congress to provide $600 million as the first step in aid to Latin America. He said there is "grave and imminent danger that desperate peoples will turn to communism or other forms of tyranny" if help is not forthcoming.

The President sent a special message to the Capitol in a follow-up to his address Monday night calling for a 10-year cooperative aid program of "towering dimension" for south of the border nations. He advocated hoisting a banner with this motto: "Progress yes, tyranny no."

Alliance of Progress

The administration program—outlined by Kennedy in a White House speech to Latin-American diplomats—is keyed to the idea of an alliance of progress. He wants the Latin-American countries to join with the United States in a massive drive to improve living conditions and thereby help out "tyranny from a hemisphere in which it has no rightful place."

Kennedy made it clear he had Cuba and the Dominican Republic specifically in mind in saying this.

In his message today, the President asked Congress to appropriate $500 million as an initial step in the over-all aid program, to meet a U.S. commitment made last year at Bogota, Colombia.

Eighteen other American republics also subscribed to the idea of mutual help. The U.S. share was authorized by Congress at the last session, but the money hasn't been provided yet.

Urges Speedy Action

Congress also authorized $100 million in aid last year for reconstruction and rehabilitation of areas of Southern Chile devastated by earthquakes and fires. Kennedy urged speedy appropriation of this money "so the task of rebuilding the economy of Southern Chile can proceed without delay."

In calling for fulfillment of the U.S. commitment at Bogota as part of the administration's general aid program, Kennedy told Congress: "The Act of Bogota marks an historic turning point in the evolution of the Western Hemisphere. For the first time the American nations have agreed to join in a massive cooperative effort to strengthen Democratic institutions through a program of economic development and social progress."

Such a program is long overdue. Throughout Latin America millions of people are struggling

Nixon to Counsel Law Firm, Run Own GOP Office

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard Milhous Nixon, who rose from small town lawyer to vice president of the United States, is back in a law office today.

The defeated Republican presidential candidate ended two months of speculation about his future Monday when he told a news conference:

He is joining the large Los Angeles law firm of Adams, Duque and Hazelton.

He will divide his time between the law office and a separate, privately run political headquarters.

To Lead Party

He will scrupulously avoid any legal activity that might lead to charges of conflict of interest.

He intends to provide leadership for the Republican party in California and the nation. Nixon noted he will work as counsel, not partner, for the firm. As counsel, he explained, he will be paid only for those cases which he handles directly. As a partner, he would share in all fees received by the firm. He said this arrangement will help him avoid any charges of influence peddling or conflict of interest.

Some Not Convinced

Last weekend Nixon announced he has no plans to run for governor of California. But some Republicans say they're not convinced he won't change his mind and oppose Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown next year.

Patrols Driving To Reach Whites In Kivu Section

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Malayan U.N. patrols today beat the bush to reach 300 white missionaries, businessmen and nuns in rebel-held Kivu Province as the first rescued told of atrocities by rampaging Congolese soldiers.

Some Americans were among the whites trapped in isolated jungle outposts as rescue forces were rushed out.

Tearful Plea

U.N. headquarters received a tearful typewritten plea from a Belgian nun: "Can no one help us from outside?"

The Congolese soldiers were running wild in a siege of terror that began more than two weeks ago in the Maniema region. Kivu officials, who refused to let the whites leave the chaotic province because their skills are needed, apparently were unable to keep their own forces in hand.

Only fragmentary reports came from the Malayan U.N. troops rushed into the area dominated by Lumumbists.

No word had been heard from a patrol sent to rescue an American missionary girl who was raped by four Congolese soldiers and told she would never be allowed to leave the province alive.

3 Nuns Brutally Beaten

Three Belgian nuns — one 75 years old — were among 20 brutally beaten Europeans brought to Leopoldville.

One told of a raid on the Kasongo Mission. The nuns were hauled off to prison and forced to strip, and two ladies "were brought away and violated throughout the whole night."

The terror in Kivu came to light as the Congo's anti-Communist political leaders arrived in Elisabethville, capital of Katanga Province, after their talks at Tananarive, Malagasy.

A crowd of about 10,000 cheered President Moise Tshombe of Katanga, President Joseph Kasavubu of the Leopoldville regime.

The United States gave cautious approval to their plan for a Congo confederation of semi-independent states divided along tribal and economic lines. State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen in Washington the United States also hopes that Soviet-backed Antoine Gizenga, head of the Lumumbist regime in Stanleyville, will join in the negotiations establishing the confederation. Gizenga snubbed an invitation to the Tananarive meeting.

Unions Ask Vote For Sprinklers, Hunter Ski Trail

Legislators attending a legislative conference held by representatives of the Ulster, Sullivan, Delaware and Greene Counties Building Trades Council, AFL-CIO Monday night, were asked to vote in favor of a law requiring the installation of sprinklers in all schools as proposed by Fire Chief James M. Brett.

The legislators at the session, held at Keeler's Restaurant, Albany, also were asked to vote in favor of the Hunter Mountain Ski Trail proposal, which is expected to be acted on in Albany on Wednesday.

The proposed amendment to the constitution would permit lease of 250 acres of "forever wild" state land on Hunter Mountain for the extension of ski trails and other amusements including a restaurant, to Hunter Mountain Development Corp.

Proposed bills approved by the labor unions and measures not acceptable to unions were discussed.

The bills ranged from Workmen's Compensation, unemployment insurance benefits, time lost attending hearings, prohibition of strikebreakers, prohibition of explosive tools, union representatives and minimum wages.

Among the bills opposed were those denying the right of a fair choice of a physician in Workmen's Compensation cases, arbitrary disqualification of unemployed benefits, a proposed amendment to Workmen's Compensation denying the right to sue a third party where negligence occurs.

Members of the legislature attending last night's conference were Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, of Ulster County; Hyman Mintz of Sullivan and Edwyn Mason, Delaware County. Assemblyman Bradley of Greene County was unable to attend.

Representatives of the Trade Council attending were George E. Yerry Jr., Stephen Gill, Julius Lamanec, George Nagy, Orben Purdy, Thomas Mitchell and Hyman Zamansky. Raymond Corbett, legislative representative of the New York State AFL-CIO and his assistant, E. Freedman, also attended.

Leaving Scene Charged

Andrew M. Cherney, 21, of 61 Newkirk Avenue, charged with having driven a car March 11, which struck another on Wurts Street, was booked this morning for allegedly leaving the scene of an accident. The arrest was by Officers Garvin Fisher and Floyd Krom and the case was put over in city court to Wednesday.

Says Peel Asked Poison Drop for Floyd Holzapfel

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—A former prisoner testified today that Joseph A. Peel Jr. asked him to slip a "deadly poison" in the food of Floyd Holzapfel.

The former prisoner, Robert E. Johnson of Greensboro, N.C., said Peel told him, "If I can get rid of Holzapfel, I can beat that Chillingworth murder charge."

Johnson, a trusty, said the alleged poison was contained in a cigarette pack that Peel handed him through the bars of a Palm Beach county jail cell.

The witness said he hid the pack and later turned it over to a deputy sheriff.

Holzapfel, who has confessed that he drowned Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth and Mrs. Chillingworth in the Atlantic in 1955, and who named Peel as the man who plotted the crime, was in a cell on the fourth floor of the jail.

Peel was in a cell on the third floor several times about the Chillingworth case and told him Holzapfel would be a witness against him.

Johnson said Peel told him: "If you put poison in Holzapfel's food or milk, you will be well taken care of."

Holzapfel has said Peel, former West Palm Beach city judge, was deeply involved in numbers and moonshine rackets and felt that Judge Chillingworth was about to expose him.

Cementon Man Fined $10 Following Mishap

A Cementon man discharged from the hospital Monday following a two-car mishap Sunday morning pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to keep right and was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace George Carl of Leeds on Monday.

On another charge lodged by Leeds state police, the case was dismissed when the operator produced a driver's license.

Leeds state police reported John Peter Valencich Jr., 43, was driving his car on Maple Avenue, Cementon at 3 a. m. when the vehicle was in collision with a parked car owned by Frank C. West Jr., also of Cementon. He was alone in the car.

Valencich suffered lacerations of the nose, contusions of the upper lip and was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, troops said.

Troopers Grant Davis and G. E. Brown investigated.

Lay Plans for $22.6 Million Emergency Money for Schools

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Republican legislative leaders laid the groundwork today for a $22.6-million emergency increase in state aid to elementary and secondary education in the next school year.

In a separate development, Gov. Rockefeller's controversial higher-education program, to cost $38 million a year, came up in the Assembly for final approval. It includes a plan for annual state grants to college students.

Medical Care in Senate

Another major Rockefeller proposal, extension of government-paid medical care to 92,000 residents over 65, was passed unanimously in the Assembly Monday. It went to the Senate, where similar approval was expected.

The governor's plan for raising state employees' salaries by $37.5 million ran into opposition from majority Republican senators who balked at proposed increases, ranging to $10,000 a year, in the upper brackets.

The senators plan to trim between $2 and $5.5 million from the higher raises recommended by the governor.

Raises Generally Favored

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney reported after a conference of the GOP members that the lawmakers generally were in favor of raising their own pay. He declined to say by how much. Unofficial estimates ranged to $2,500 a year, which would cost about $520,000 a year for the 208 lawmakers. The raise would take effect in 1963.

British Actress Killed in Coast Crash, 3 Hurt

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—A skidding, somersaulting automobile flung British actress Belinda Lee 63 feet to her death Monday and injured three Italian movie-makers including her fiancé.

The beautiful box-office star was returning to Hollywood from a scene-scouting trip to Las Vegas, Nev. The Italians have been making a documentary film, not involving Miss Lee, 26.

The station wagon, estimated by a witness to be going more than 100 miles an hour, blew its left rear tire, skidded 1,100 feet, leaped a ditch and crashed upside down, the highway patrol said.

Miss Lee, unconscious, lived 15 or 20 minutes.

Her fiancé, movie director Gualtiero Jacopetti, 41, suffered a broken leg. He was reported in fair condition at Barstow Community Hospital, where the injured were taken.

Two other men in the car suffered lesser injuries.

The crash occurred about 150 miles northeast of Hollywood.

Miss Lee, born in Devon, England, made her screen debut in 1954, in "Runaway Bus."

The young beauty was voted one of the top British money-making stars in the 1957 Motion Picture Herald-fame poll conducted by the movie magazine.

DeLaval Signs Pact Until '64

An accord on a collective bargaining agreement has been reached by the DeLaval Separator Co., Poughkeepsie, and the American Federation of Technical Engineers, Local 178, AFL-CIO.

The contract, which became effective last Thursday, will run until March 9, 1964. The agreement provides a $2.80 a week general increase for a 40-hour week to members of the AFTE bargaining unit, effective March 6, and a similar weekly general increase effective March 5, 1962, and a further $2.80 weekly general increase on March 11, 1963.

Also included in the contract are changes in wording to cover agreements on eligibility dates for merit rating, periodic and other agreements of mutual benefit to the company and union.

Lay Plans for $22.6 Million Emergency Money for Schools

aid to elementary and secondary schools began officially yesterday when the Joint Legislative Committee on School Financing — the Defendoff Committee — finished a report calling for stop-gap aid in the next school year.

Working on Financing

In the meantime, the committee will complete long-range proposals for overhauling methods of financing public education.

GOP legislative leaders participated in the drafting of the interim report and planned to use it as the basis of a move for higher aid.

An informed source said the $22.6 million would go chiefly to fast-growing districts and those with the highest property taxes and there would be no general increase.

An increase of $22.6 million for the school year beginning in September would require an increase of $9 million in the $74 million school-aid appropriation in Rockefeller's budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1.

Looks to Committee

The Republican governor has said he would oppose any increase in his original allocation unless the Defendoff Committee called for more aid.

In higher education, the Rockefeller program includes a controversial plan under which 121,000 New York residents attending colleges in the state would receive annual grants ranging from $100 to $300 for undergraduates and $300 to $800 for graduate students. The amount per student would depend on need.

The plan has weathered several weeks of controversy over fiscal and constitutional issues.

Castro Blasts Latin Program, Hits Aggression

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro threatened today that Cuba will "form many revolutionary governments-in-exile" — beginning with Puerto Rico — if the United States sanctions a Cuban government-in-exile.

The prime minister made a sharp counterattack to President Kennedy's announcement of a broad 10-year economic and social development program for Latin America and Kennedy's expression of hope that the people of Cuba "will soon rejoin the society of free men, uniting with us in our common effort."

Sees Call for Revolt

Castro quickly interpreted the Kennedy program, outlined to Latin-American diplomats at a White House reception, as a call for a revolt against his regime. He said he will promote revolution against the governments which promote revolution against us," he said.

Castro linked his attack on the Kennedy administration with a fresh charge of aggression by the United States. He said the United States had supplied counter-revolutionaries with an armed ship that shot up the nationalized Texaco oil refinery at Santiago before dawn Monday.

The government - controlled press and radio said the ship probably sped to a refuge at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay after firing shots that killed a Cuban sailor, wounded a militiaman, and set fire to an atmospheric tower at the refinery, and punctured three tanks.

Denies Refuge Charge

Officials at the naval base, 45 miles east of Santiago, denied the vessel had taken refuge at the base.

Castro fumed with anger in a three-hour postmidnight speech before a rain-drenched crowd around the steps of Havana University. While the crowd was gathering, a bomb exploded in the Vedado district branch of the Cuban National Bank. No one was hurt.

Castro charged that armed attacks on Cuba had increased since Kennedy took over the presidency. He showered his warmest praise yet on the Soviet-led Communist bloc. Castro derided Kennedy as a "captive of monopolies" and called the President's "supposed alliance for progress a historical joke which intends to be a continental joke."

Castro said "barely two years ago the Yankee empire did not remember (Latin) America existed." He said the Cuban revolution and leftist advances in Latin America had awakened the United States.

He declared: "The cowardly giant feels weak in the face of the moral and the reason and the prestige of small people and says the problem is a problem of all America. And we say that the problem of Cuba with the United States is not a problem of Cuba with the United States but a problem of all Latin America with the United States."

$5,000 Damage Is Caused by Blaze At Napanoch

Firemen from three companies battled flames this morning that caused damage estimated between $4,000 and $5,000 to an unoccupied nine-room house on Route 209 opposite the state farm operated for the Eastern Correctional Institution, Napanoch.

Fire Chief Reuben Markowitz, Wawarsing Fire Company who was in charge of firemen at the scene, said about 100 men from Wawarsing, Napanoch and Kerhonkson Fire Companies responded to an alarm at 10:08 a. m.

The fire, of undetermined origin, started in the rear of the residence and firemen confined damage to that area. Firemen were forced to don smoke masks to enter the building. The residence is owned by Edward Koenig who presently is in Oak Park, Mich.

Chief Markowitz said the Koenigs were at the house last weekend and reported to him they found a door open but everything inside was apparently in order.

County Court Actions

A 75-day jail sentence was imposed in the Joseph Peter Shumalski unlawful entry case in County Court Monday by Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker. Shumalski, 19, Tillson, was represented by John Wilkie. Credit for the time served was granted and Shumalski was released. The charge grew out of the entrance to the summer place of Peter Hoffman of Woodside, L. I., where considerable damage was done. In the case of Paul A. Miles, charged with grand larceny, a 140-day jail sentence was imposed and credit was given for time already served. Howard C. St. John appeared for defendant. A further postponement was granted in the Arthur Holmes Jr. case, who has entered a plea of guilty to burglary. John Gotelli appears for Holmes. Holmes is awaiting sentence.

Just as Menacing

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — A thief who signs notes "Al Conpone" (sic) may not be as successful as the well known gangster, but he's just as menacing. After two burglaries which netted only a total of $120, he left this note: "Don't get mad, just be thankful I did not burn the place up, Al Conpone."

TURNED DOWN — Offer of actress Nancy Kwan, above, to teach British soldiers Chinese and use of chopsticks has been rejected by British army because she is "too beautiful," according to Capt. Anthony Hare. He had advertised for a teacher and to insure good class attendance, specified she must be beautiful. Hare says Nancy would be too much of a distraction. President Asks to free themselves from the bonds of poverty and hunger and ignorance.

Face Imminent Danger

He said "If the Act of Bogota becomes just another empty declaration—if we are unwilling to commit our resources and energy to the task of social progress and economic development—then we face a grave and imminent danger that desperate peoples will turn to communism or other forms of tyranny as their only hope for change."

"Well organized, skillful and thoroughly financed forces are constantly urging them to take this course."

Alluding to the broader program he set forth Monday night, Kennedy said the $500 million he wants for the inter-American fund for social progress is only the first move toward carrying out the declarations of the Act of Bogota.

Act Only Single Step

"And the act itself is only a single step in our program for development of the hemisphere," Kennedy said. U.S. embassies and operations missions in Latin America already have reported proposals for social development projects calling for external aid totaling about $1.2 billion under the Bogota program. He added that about $800 million worth of the proposed projects has been found qualified for detailed study.

"Latin America," said Kennedy, "is seething with discontent and unrest. We must act to relieve large scale distress immediately if free institutions are to be given a chance to work out long term solutions."

The President's aid program and his goal of seeking to prevent any spread of Communist influence or rightist dictatorships won warm praise from the Latin American diplomats in his audience in the White House East Room Monday night.

For example, Nicaraguan Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, dean of the diplomatic corps, said the President's speech was so "comprehensive and extraordinary in its profound and extra-mundane of Latin-American problems and means of attacking them that it will become known as the Kennedy doctrine."

Flores Praises Message

Mexico's Ambassador Antonio Carrillo Flores called it an excellent address "which follows Mexico's long-time tradition that economic progress is meaningless without freedom."

In sounding the freedom theme Kennedy expressed special friendship for the people of Cuba and the Dominican Republic, the only two Latin-American nations not represented at the White House reception where he spoke. And he voiced the hope that the people of those countries—with which the United States has severed diplomatic relations—"will soon rejoin the society of free men, uniting with us in our common effort."

Kennedy's message to Congress is intended to get the administration program rolling in a modest way. He placed no over-all price tag on the general plan, but he left no doubt that he is thinking in terms of big spending over the years — if the Latin-American countries pitch in and help to the greatest extent possible.

Called at Soviet Embassy First

Russians Are Clear-Cut Bosses Of Castro Regime, Writer Says

EDITORS NOTE — William L. Ryan has been touring Latin America for the last two months, looking into the inroads of communism and Castroism in that area. This is the latest of his dispatches.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
MEXICO CITY (AP) — One of the first things Fidel Castro's current ambassador did when he arrived in Mexico—even before presenting his credentials to the government—was to call on the Soviet ambassador.

And from that time a year ago until today there has been a steady stream of traffic between the embassies of Moscow's Vladimir Bazykin and Cuba's Jose Antonio Portuondo Valdez.

Russians Are Bosses
There is every evidence that activities of the two embassies, less than two blocks apart on the Calzada Tacubaya, are carefully coordinated, and that the Russians are the unquestioned bosses of their common efforts.

Portuondo now is the leading spokesman for Fidel Castro and Castroism in Latin America. He attacks the job with enormous energy, lecturing frequently throughout the country.

Portuondo was a member of the Young Communist League and later of the popular Socialist (Communist) party of Cuba. He once taught in several U.S. universities but left 10 years ago when the heat was on him for his Communist connections.

Devoted to Propaganda
Able, intelligent and fluent in English, he now is in full charge of Castro intelligence operations in Mexico. Aiding him are members of a topheavy embassy staff and about a half dozen employees of Prensa Latina, Castro's news service which is devoted strictly to propaganda.

The Cuban ambassador seems to have plenty of money. His agents are highly paid. His propaganda output is expensive. There is one report that he brought from Havana $200,000 to help finance last week's Latin-American conference sponsored by the Communists in Mexico City. The Russians are reported to have put up more than twice that and to have pledged to foot any additional expenses.

In Constant Touch

Portuondo works hand in glove with Bazykin, who speaks English and Spanish fluently. Bazykin is in constant touch with the Soviet Embassy in Havana and the suspicion has been raised that the embassy in Mexico is in charge of all Communist activities in the Caribbean and Central America.

Bazykin's embassy has been stepped up in size recently and now has about 140 staff members, none of them Mexicans and all of them carefully shielded from unauthorized contact with the outside.

The U.S. Embassy has a staff of about 430. Half are Mexicans. But the U.S. Embassy must deal with issuing tens of thousands of visas, with the influx of 700,000 U.S. tourists annually, with a multiplicity of common U.S.-Mexican trade and border questions. The Russians have no such obligations.

Cater to Intellectuals
The Russians and the Castro Cubans concentrate much of their energies on recruiting among Mexico's student and teachers and the intellectual class in general. They obviously are making significant progress in building a dangerous fifth column for Mexico.

Mexico is one of the bright spots of Latin America in many respects. The capital has a bright, hopeful look and hums with an

Opening Salvo

Students Protest S.U. Tuitions.

FREDONIA, N. Y. (AP)—The idea of tuition at State University colleges has drawn its first salvo of organized protest from students.

About 300 students at Fredonia State Teachers College, bundled up in a heavy rain, paraded quietly through this Western New York village Monday night carrying signs reading "We can't afford tuition; we want to be teachers," and "Vote no tuition."

Gov. Rockefeller has asked the Legislature to allow the State University Board of Trustees to set tuition at State University colleges if the board sees fit. No demonstrations were reported elsewhere, but William Hangle of Long Beach, president of the Fredonia Students Association, said students at Oswego State Teachers College were planning a similar parade.

Hangle said he wired all State University student groups but got only two replies.

"We've got to stop this apathy," he said. "The students have got to realize that this is coming out of their own pockets."

Hangle, a junior music major, said he's have to leave school if tuition was charged. He added that he knew scores of fellow students with the same problem.

Britain Revises Bible 1st Time In Eighty Years

By RAYMOND E. PALMER
LONDON (AP)—A New Testament in modern English, 13 years in the writing, went on sale today. Known as "The New English Bible: New Testament," it strips away the language of the King James and earlier English versions. It is the first revision in Britain since 1881.

And for the first time in British history, all the major churches in Britain, except for the Roman Catholic, joined in the revision.

Prof. Charles Dodd, director of the project, says the original Greek and Hebrew have been translated into "English which is as clear and natural as the subject matter will allow."

Here is a comparison: Authorized version of the Lord's Prayer:

"Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

"Give us this day our daily bread."

"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors."

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever, Amen."

New English Bible:

"Our Father in heaven, Thy name be hallowed; Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, On earth as in heaven. Give us today our daily bread. Forgive us the wrong we have done."

"As we have forgiven those who have wronged us."

"And do not bring us to the test."

"But save us from the evil one."

The revision was suggested in 1946 by the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. It said the church's work was hindered by the archaic language of the Bible.

A joint committee was formed in 1947 to direct the new translation. All the responsibilities of publication were entrusted jointly to the university presses of Oxford and Cambridge, which bear the whole cost and own the copyright.

Card Game
The original game of bezique is the ancestor of American pinocle. Said to be of Scandinavian origin, its name and earliest noted popularity are associated with France (about 1860). It is Sir Winston Churchill's favorite card game.

Dutchess Holstein Gets Highest Mark

Greigs Model Al Dinah 4205-665, a registered Holstein cow owned by Wigsten's Highline Farm, Pleasant Valley, has been officially classified "Excellent" the highest designation attainable in the type classification program of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This highly select designation is applied only to animals scoring 90 or more of the 100 points representing theoretical perfection in body conformation.

Of nearly 56,000 registered Holsteins officially classified for type last year only 369 were rated "excellent."

The Wigsten's Holstein moved into the "Excellent" bracket for the first time during a recent classification of the herd by R. P. Denney of Frederick, Maryland, an official inspector on the staff of the national Holstein organization. She scored 91 points. Animals scored "Excellent" in previous programs are not included in this listing.

The classification program — in continuous operation since 1929 — provides a universally-recognized method of comparing the conformation of living animals with that of the true-type Holstein cow or bull. Participation is currently at an all-time high level.

"SALADA" is the trade-mark of Salada-Shirriff-Honey Inc., and is registered in the U.S. Patent Office and in Canada.

Taste or quick color: what do you want in your tea?

What you get out of a cup of tea depends on what you put into it. Tea bags full of tea dust color quickly, but the taste they make is flat. Tea bags full of tea leaves, like Salada uses, take a little longer to color, but what a taste they give! True tea taste. Great tea taste. A taste that tea dust just can't match (so much flavor's been rubbed away before it even gets to your cup). Salada won't spend for tea dust: only for choice, rich tea leaves. That's why Salada never tastes harsh. Nor brash. But smooth. Civilized. And above all, subtle. Doesn't that sound like your cup of tea?

(You get the same rare subtle tea taste in Salada Instant Tea. 100% tea, 100% Salada.)

THE WONDER OF SOUNDS

There is no getting around the truth of the common observation that ours is a noisy age. But anyone inclined to look at the bright side of things may point out that there is another side to this coin. The other side is that a vast treasure of beautiful or otherwise interesting sound is available to us.

A man tired of cacophony—of the ear-drum assault mounted by industry and transport and radio-borne pop tunes—can seek the relative quiet of his living room and fill it with an indescribable range of recorded sound.

Music, of course, is the heart of this treasure. But there are many other things—readings in literature and drama, words as they were uttered by notable men, recordings of all manner of sounds from the natural world. It was one of the latter, a new recording of the characteristic sounds of many animals, that touched off these observations. A man may sit alone in a room and listen to birdsong, the drip and plash of rainfall, the noblest musical creations of Beethoven and Mozart. And that, we submit, is a thing greatly on the credit side for our maligned civilization.

NURTURING THE GOOSE

How to get the golden eggs without killing the corporate goose represents a never ending challenge to taxing authorities. Legislators have been tempted to tap and tap again the rich resource of corporate income. It has generally been safer to do this than to tax individuals: after all, a corporation can't vote.

But the Kennedy administration points out, in its tax revision proposals, the danger in the uninhibited taxation of America's corporations. Because income produced by these companies represents a prime source of capital expansion, it has been proposed that credit against taxes be given on monies "plowed back" into plant and equipment.

According to administration economists this constitutes a more positive action than the so-called "accelerated tax write-off" approach favored heretofore. But reform in method is not so important as is the deed itself—to stimulate business expansion. It is doubly difficult during a recession to induce business to undertake this expansion. Some tax concessions are a small price to pay to insure it.

A RUNNING START

The President's Peace Corps plan seems to be off to a running start. Some 6,000 letters reached Washington seeking assignment before the office set-up was completed or application blanks prepared.

Considering that the government's so-far nebulous hopes envision only about 1,000 at work overseas by year's end, it appears sure that many applicants will be disappointed. But the response is a wonderful assurance that altruism is far from dead among our younger generation. For members of the Peace Corps will get no pay; only a living allowance. They have been warned that they will face hardships.

About the only appeal the job has is the opportunity to help backward nations meet the need for skilled manpower. But there is a tremendous opportunity in that. If we can dispel the "Ugly American" picture abroad it should be worth more than all our nuclear arsenal in winning the world's downtrodden to our side.

The Castro regime tells U.S. tourists that is required of them to visit Cuba. First of all, they must be hard up for a place to go.

Space engineers planning radio phone calls to earth satellites probably will start with the query, "How's the weather up there?"

Who says Kennedy's not economy-minded? Taking up backyard golf, he resisted the temptation to aim at the lamp pole like used to try to hit.

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES

Since its organization, 23 years ago, the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities has been opposed and attacked. It would be untrue to say that this opposition came exclusively from Communists and their friends. Many persons who believe that the term, civil rights, as incorporated in the American Constitution, permits a person to hold views, to preserve privacy, to fight off the pressures of conformity, also oppose this committee. They include among those who possess these rights—Communists, socialists, anarchists but not Fascists which seems inexplicable because if civil rights are justifiable for one set of subversives, why not for all subversives?

On the other hand, the supporters of the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities have generally held the view that the Communist Party menaces liberty in the United States and requires constant examination and investigation with a view toward extirpation.

HUAC is older than the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. Both committees engage in the same general operation. Their effectiveness, even from the standpoint of their own programs, is uneven. Sometimes one committee, sometimes the other is more effective, more competent, better publicized in its activities or more violently attacked.

The House Committee, under the chairmanship of Martin Dies, set the standard for the measurement of Communist affiliations, namely guilt by association, that is, the relationships among persons to prove a common objective. The Senate Committee, under Senator Joseph McCarthy, attempted a deeper probe, namely, to discover a pattern of subversion and espionage. If one looks at the reports of both committees, they represent a vast survey of Communist efforts in the United States.

The House Committee in recent years has been delving into the ideology and methodology of Marxist activities and has been issuing studies, some of which are quite valuable in an understanding of the problem. The Senate Committee has within the past few months been making a study of the relationship of William A. Wieland and the State Department to the development of the Castro Revolution in Cuba. Its sessions have been Executive and the testimony has not been made available to the public, but enough is known of what they have done to establish a conflict in testimony among Wieland and Ambassadors Earl E. T. Smith, Arthur Gardner and Robert Hill to justify an assumption that when open sessions are held, either the testimony will be changed or one of these witnesses must be held for perjury. The object of holding hearing in Executive session is to avoid giving publicity to events and personal deviations which may be rumor, not facts. In the Executive sessions a man can set his record straight without publicity, but if he lies, his peril is that he will be called in open session and may be established as a perjurer.

Representative James Roosevelt has been leading the fight against HUAC, demanding its abolition. Thus far, he has not been successful. Representative John V. Lindsay of New York, a Republican, favors the absorption of the duties of the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities by the House Judiciary Committee, a body that has generally been antagonistic to its work and that is bogged down with numerous other activities, including the preparation of legislation dealing with the criminal code. Representative Lindsay, in effect, would really abolish HUAC the same as Jimmy Roosevelt would except that he would do it by an organizational gimmick instead of outright.

At one time, in the Roosevelt Administration, an attempt was made to abolish HUAC and to destroy its files. This move was fought off and the files have remained intact. However, as most of the material in the files has been published, the destruction of the data now would be meaningless and no one presently advocates that.

There is little question but that the work of HUAC will have to be altered. Most of the earlier investigations are gone and the initial anti-Communist impulse is worn off. However, this country is developing a large number of peculiar and subversive organizations, many of them in the guise of anti-Communist, some representing a pseudo-conservatism, some pursuing purposes which, if proliferated through, could damage this country. They are being investigated by these new efforts to mobilize persons in activities designed to unsettle and disturb this country might be productive of valuable historic data.

Knees Are Tough Joints
But Give Them Best of Care

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The knee is a very complicated structure as many readers of these columns have discovered to their woe. And it is capable of taking a terrific beating without complaint as you must have realized when you watched a base runner hook-slide into the shin guards of a catcher, get up, dust himself off and walk to the dugout.

Next time you carve a chicken, you can learn a little about the knee. It's a joint formed by the under surface of the drumstick (femur) and the upper surface of the larger leg bone (tibia). To open the joint you'll have to cut through a tough wrapping of tissue. When you get through this joint capsule, you'll see that the articulating surface of the femur is shiny white and is made up of two knuckles that are built to rock back and forth on the table-like surface of the underlying tibia.

If now you feel your own joint, you'll discover the protective kneecap. But what you'll have to take my word for are the inner workings of the joint. First of all, there is a pair of cushions (joint cartilages) that separate joint surfaces. Then, there are cross tie (cruciform) ligaments that prevent twisting. And then there is a clear joint fluid that keeps the various structures and surfaces moist and lubricated.

Here are some of the many things that can happen to the knee: The capsule may tear allowing the joint fluid to escape, thus causing the surfaces to scrape and wear away. The cruciform ligaments may break loose, causing joint surfaces to grind on one another. The cartilages may become displaced and get to moving around (joint mice). Or they may suddenly get stuck between joint surfaces (knee lock). Then, to add to the general confusion, there may be an outpouring of joint fluid (water on the knee), undoubtedly intended as an effort on nature's part to protect injured structures.

Now all this is nasty business. Sometimes, the knee hurts all the time. You limp. And next thing you know you're having trouble with the opposite hip or ankle. Or you get to think you're all over your woes and suddenly the joint locks and you shriek with pain. Then, you sort of walk on eggs for a while, fearful of a recurrence. And you're usually right in your assumption. Or your knee wells in front (housemaid's knee) or behind (bakers cyst). Or it gets all swollen until it looks like a bagpipe.

One way or other, it must be clear that no amount of external treatment can conceivably influence the internal disturbance. You may not enjoy the prospect of an operation. But the longer you postpone what has to be done, the more difficulties you are building up for yourself.

Washington News

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—President Kennedy's tax program is now set for unveiling March 27, four days after his message revising next year's budget goes to Congress under the revised schedule.

This is about three weeks later than originally intended. The delay is due entirely to inability to work out all the complex problems involved in so short a time.

PRESENT THINKING is that there may have to be two tax messages. The first would cover short-range changes which could be enacted by June, so as to apply to government operations in fiscal 1962.

Then along about April, after the last 1961 and the first 1962 tax collections have been counted, there could be a second message on long-range tax reforms. This could probably not be enacted before next year.

Also, by April it should be apparent whether the business recovery will have begun or whether there will be continued high unemployment. Either way, both the long and short-range tax programs could be affected.

If unemployment continues high, pressure will increase for a temporary suspension of withholding taxes on income. Labor union economists have been pushing this as a means of giving people more money to spend, thus giving business a boost.

This idea has not been entirely ruled out. The difficulty with it is that by the time it could be approved by Congress and put into effect, the recession might be over.

ON A LONG-RANGE BASIS, a theoretical way around the objection might be to give the President authority to suspend payroll tax reductions whenever unemployment reaches, say, 7 per cent. Withholding taxes would then be resumed automatically when unemployment dropped to, say, 5 per cent. But this whole idea is not now considered politically realistic.

The same criticism applies to proposals by Committee for Economic Development and other business groups to reduce the high tax rates on upper income brackets. This is offered as an incentive to businessmen to invest more money in new enterprises instead of into tax-exempt securities or in trying to evade taxes.

But the general feeling now is that there can be no special tax cuts of this kind. If any reductions are made, they must be across the board, benefiting all taxpayers. Also, President Kennedy has indicated tax cuts are not feasible now.

THIS DOES NOT RULE OUT revisions in special tax rates which will end tax abuses. The problem here is to define abuses. Tax loopholes may be incentives to one group of taxpayers, but abuses to other taxpayers who don't have them.

The objective set for both long and short-term tax programs is not just accelerating antirecession measures, but actively stimulating economic growth.

And whatever loss of revenue the government may incur by adjustments to further this objective will have to be made up by closing loopholes through which potential tax collections are now escaping.

THESE ARE SOME of the programs now being considered: Withholding taxes on interest and dividend payments. Tighter control over expense accounts. Modification of the present dividend tax credit. Elimination of foreign "tax havens." Revision of depreciation allowance schedules.

There are no final decisions on any of those, yet.

The whole tax program is under Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon. His special assistant is Stanley S. Surrey, former Harvard Law professor and the new commissioner of internal revenue, Mortimer S. Caplin.

But the new chairman of the President's council of economic advisers, Prof. Walter W. Heller of University of Minnesota, and others are contributing economic background.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

James Rigney Jr. of 2 South Washington Avenue, this city just loaned me Henry Abbey's book of "Poems," dated 1886. Henry Abbey was not only a well known poet, but back in 1861 he was assistant editor of the "Roundout Courier" and he published his first book of poems titled "May Dream" in 1862. In 1863 he went to Orange, N. J., where he became editor of the "Orange Spectator." In 1864 he came back to his hometown and worked here in a Kingston bank. Later he worked with his father and brother in their large flour and feed concern of Stephen Abbey's and Sons. He retired in 1900 and had lived most of his life in Ponckhockie. He died June 7, 1911 at the age of 69.

Mr. Rigney is a graduate of Kingston High School and just came out of the Air Force, where he was in the intelligence service. He tells me when he was in Texas, he being interested in history, visited the Fort Concho Museum at San Angelo, Texas. There he saw right in the main hall, in a very prominent place in a glass case, one of our Ulster County Gazettes of Jan. 4, 1800 of which he knew from this column. During his high school days he made a class speech on the history of the Skillyput ferry, much of the material, he said he found in this column.

Mr. Rigney felt that the readers would be interested at this time in Henry Abbey's poem, "May in Kingston." Attorney Henry Klien who stopped in and met Mr. Rigney also suggested this poem on seeing Abbey's poem book. A man's life as a business man is important, especially when he is alive, but his creative gift such as poetry lives on so much longer than material ability, so it seems.

Here is a little from that yet popular poem "May in Kingston" by Henry Abbey. "Our old colonial town is new with May; The loving trees that clasp across the streets, grow greener sleeved with bursting buds each day. Still this year's May repeats the last year's May repeats; Even the old stone-houses half renew, Their youth and beauty, as the old trees do."

The third verse reads in part: "Down through the lowlands now of lightest green, the undecided creek winds on its way. There the lithe willow bends with graceful mien..."

Fourth verse reads in part: "But yonder loom the mountains old and grand. That off, along dim distance, reach afar. And high and vast, against the sunset stand, A dreamy range, long and irregular—A caravan that never passes by, Whose camel-backs are laden with the sky."

Perhaps Henry Abbey wrote this after the type of Ulster County winter we had this year. He further writes: "So, like a caravan, our outlived years, Loom on the introspective landscape seen, Within the heart; And now, when May appears, And earth renews its vernal bloom and green, We but renew our longing, and we say: "Oh, would that life might ever be all May!"

Henry Abbey continues: "Would that the bloom of youth that is so brief, The bloom, the May, the fullness ripe and fair, Of cheek and limb, might fade not as the leaf: Would that the heart might not grow old with care, Nor love turn bitter, nor fond hope decay; But 'soul and body lead a life of May!"

A also note that Abbey wrote a long poem called "Vanderlyn." Another "The Artist's Prayer" about Washington Allston, also a famous artist and friend of Vanderlyn's.

Indeed, the same people who want to punish South Africa because they don't like its internal policies are saying that the United Nations should admit K-d China and disregard not only the past record in the Korean War but also what is being done inside China today to crush human freedom.

Surely there are paradoxes galore in world affairs nowadays, and not a little of the momentum behind the effort to seek to discredit South Africa for its racial policies is the belief that this will help to keep the new African countries from nestling in the arms of the Soviet Union. If the West, however, gives way to the whims of so-called "neutralist" countries, the end result can only be the disintegration of Western alliances. Internal controversies affecting human rights are, of course, a matter of worldwide concern, but they can be considered domestic problems unless and until they reach out to affect international peace. Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—By the time the Jack Paar signed off early this morning, it was getting a little difficult to remember what the Ed Sullivan-Jack Paar feud was all about.

The name calling and counter-charges had rather obscured the issues, if there ever were any.

Fortunately, the Patterson-Johansson fight (on radio) wound up just in time to permit the listeners to switch to the last round—one hopes—of the Sullivan-Paar affair.

Earlier in the evening on the NBC Huntley-Brinkley news show the situation of Sullivan pulling out of the debate was handled in three brisk, sardonic sentences by Chet Huntley.

However, during a station break immediately following the news show (and frequently during the evening) an announcer reported that the debate was off, but urged that we tune in the Paar show anyway to learn all the circumstances.

On CBS, Sullivan's network Douglas Edwards devoted two or three minutes to a taped interview with Sullivan. Ed was grim, serious and righteous. To a CBS staff reporter's question as to why the debate was called off, he glared at the camera and said, "Paar wretched; choked up and ran out."

That was the end of it as far as CBS was concerned.

Hope for a debate flared again when the Paar show started. Hugh Downs came out and said earnestly that we were about to witness "an unusual and important television event."

GOP Kills Move For Reinstating Milk Dating Law

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Majority Republicans squashed a Democratic move Monday night to force an Assembly vote on legislation that would permit New York City to reinstate its milk-dating law.

The Assembly voted 80 to 60 against ordering the Health Committee to report the bill to the floor.

Two Democratic assemblymen, George P. Savage of Onondaga County and Paul A. Worlock of Rome joined the Republicans in the milk bill fight. The measure probably will die.

The 1960 Legislature took from New York City its authority to require that milk containers bear the pasteurization date. Upstate legislators said dairymen had complained that the rule resulted in return of considerable milk.

Excavations have shown that Stone Age people lived in Russell Cave near Bridgeport, Ala., for more than 9,000 years.

overstatement. Paar came out, sat down facing the camera and for 50 minutes—including time out for the commercials—told us what he thought of Sullivan. He started by saying that "Mr. Sullivan has proved to be as honest as he is talented." Almost an hour later, he wound up by stating "Ed Sullivan is a liar." In between, it was a long, tiring evening.

It was a long, tiring evening. Just what it proved is another matter. But the feud sure gave Ed and Jack a lot of publicity.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—With three weeks in which to sell Easter finery merchants are praying for good shopping weather—and for consumer attitudes to be unswayed by all the recession talk in and out of Washington.

Despite the large total of jobless, there are 64 million Americans with jobs. Most of them are able to maintain present spending habits and some are in a position to buy more now.

The early Easter, merchants hope, will start the ball rolling.

Has Hope in Mind
The contagion of optimism could alleviate, if not cure, some of the economic ills that have worried the experts in the uncertain months of winter.

Such hope apparently is what Commerce Secretary Luther H.

Hodges has in mind when he says he thinks the economy is now in position to start to move upward.

"I think there's a better spirit and a general feeling that things are going our way and are going to get better soon," the secretary says.

Fairly normal weather in the latter part of February helped increase department store sales volume and sales of new cars. The Morgan Guaranty Trust, New York, notes in its March survey: "This upswing in trade helped to dispel earlier concern that consumers might be succumbing to recession psychology."

Merchants Convinced
Many merchants are firmly convinced that consumer psychology feeds on itself. Uncertainty about the future of the economy, they hold, cuts retail sales. And as these fall, consumers get more nervous and either hold onto their cash in fear of an upcoming day, or wait to see if prices will be slashed.

A turn for the better in consumer psychology often sets off considerable buying on its own momentum. Merchants say there's nothing like a crowded store to stimulate the buying instinct of shoppers.

The approach of Easter also turns consumers' thoughts not only to parade finery but also to all the other seasonal goods, such as new furnishings for the house or a new car.

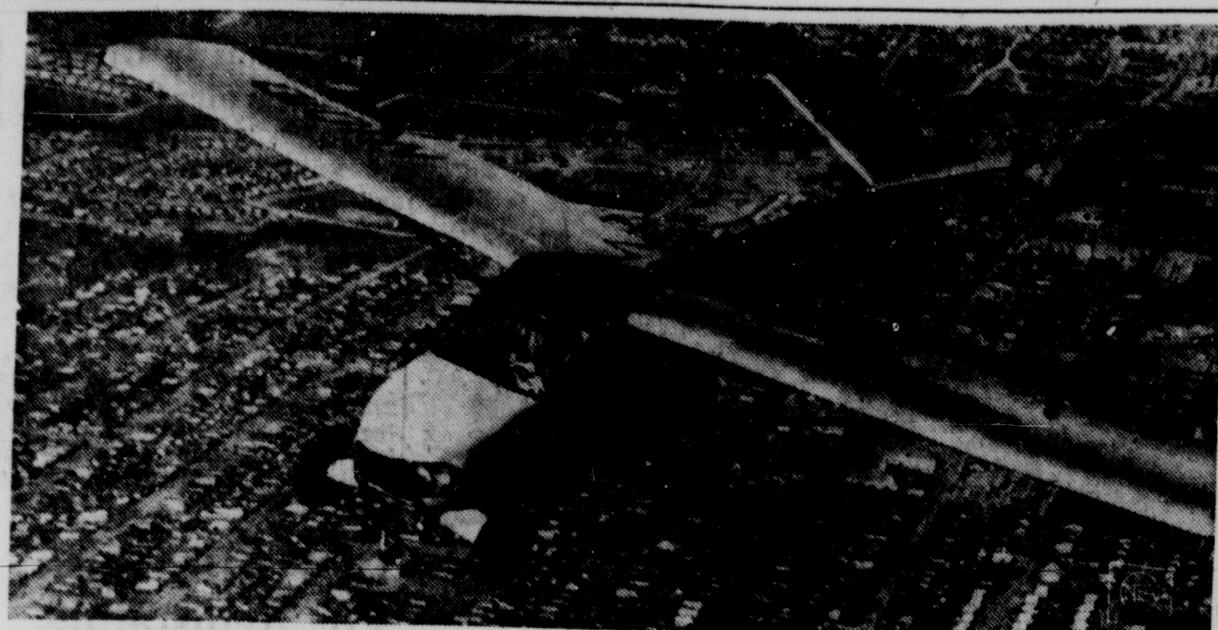

Early Easter Could Help
This year's early Easter could be a big help. It comes after a rough winter in many parts of the nation. Vernal optimism also would be welcome after months of uncertainty at best, and gloom at worst.

But Easter's sales boost potential is tied closely to the weather. And March is a tricky month. If the next three weeks inspire the robin and the crocus and the peepers to do their stuff, it could inspire the consumers to do their spring shopping early.

The consumer is still the biggest bulwark of the economy. Government spending is large and important in its effect. Outlays by businessmen for more goods, for bigger plants and newer machines can move the economy up or down.

But the total spending of consumers is still the biggest of all. And whether they spend freely or scripp makes a whale of a difference.

UNCLE SAM —
OUR RICH UNCLE

Something always needs to be done in economic America. And to the extent that individuals and the free enterprise system can't do it, Uncle Sam is willing to tackle it.

These needs may range all the way from the medical care of elderly persons who haven't been able to achieve financial self-reliance to mass unemployment in a basic industry. What if these needs do cost a few billions of dollars which high tax schedules can't raise?

One of the easiest things for Uncle Sam to accomplish is to unbalance his budget, ask Congress to vote deficit appropriation measures, issue new bonds and pump these bonds into the banking system, thus starting a new wave of inflation.

The pattern of finances since 1933 has followed along the lines set forth above. The United States Government, through its fiscal procedures, has tremendous power over America's social and economic life. And whenever our private enterprise system and individuals fail to accomplish what seems to be needed, the government lends an important hand.

So far as I can see, the events covering the period from 1933 to 1961 may well be copied in the decades immediately ahead. In 1933, Congress devalued the dollar. From then to Pearl Harbor in 1941, the federal budget was unbalanced.

The Second World War cost America $250,000,000 a day, of which $150,000,000 was borrowed. Then from 1945 through 1960, unbalanced budgets in Washington were the rule and not the exception.

Today's Uncle Sam's debts total 290 billions of dollars and during the next fiscal year the budget promises to be unbalanced to the tune of several billions of dollars.

It is in such an atmosphere that millions of investors are getting restive and deeply concerned about the integrity of the dollar. Its purchasing power has been declining for 25 years. In a recent article steel wages were discussed in this connection. Look where one will, further evidences of the dollar's deterioration will be found.

This condition in Washington permeates other segments of our society. As I write this, the able Police Commissioner of the City of New York has just resigned. To keep up with the increasing costs of living, he demanded that his men on the police force be given substantial increases in salary.

The Mayor refused to grant them. He knew that if he gave in to these demands for higher pay, the Fire Commissioner would also demand higher pay for his men.

It is unlikely that this resignation will allay the matter. And if in the future, New York City policemen and firemen get higher pay, the city's budget will be considerably increased with the result that taxes will be shoved higher, subway and bus fares will rise and the dollar's purchasing power will decline.

What is an investor to do in such an environment? He had better buy values that will protect him somewhat from inflation. There is no perfect protection. But the best values to buy and hold are the common stocks of America's leading corporations.

Brandt Sees E. German Uprising If Kremlin Forces West to Move

A BELL FROM BERLIN — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt presents President Kennedy with a replica of the bell that hangs in Berlin's City Hall during a visit to the White House, March 13. Mr. Kennedy told Brandt that the U. S. is determined to preserve the freedom of the people of West Berlin and to defend the Allied position there. (NEA Telephoto)

RB47 Inquiry Held Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress apparently is going to learn only those circumstances of the Soviet Union's release of the RB47 fliers that President Kennedy is willing to divulge.

Despite Republican demands for an inquiry into any concessions that might have been made to gain freedom for the American airmen, Democratic leaders gave early indication that no investigation, as such, is likely to materialize.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said that Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee might take a look at the situation to see if any action seemed justified.

But Mansfield said he personally would "hate to see a political issue raised on a matter of this kind."

Another highly placed Democrat, who didn't want to be quoted by name, said he is certain Kennedy would raise the issue of privileged communications with subordinates to torpedo any inquiry he didn't favor.

There is some question of whether this privilege accrues to a President elect, which Kennedy was when informal conversations began in Moscow, after the November election, to effect the fliers' release.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Monday that 25 Americans attending a scientific conference in Moscow told Soviet officials that the release of Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead and John R. McKone would be a "healthy first step" toward improving U.S.-Soviet relations.

Salinger said that the group included two who now are Kennedy aides — Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, special assistant for science and technology, and Dr. Walt W. Rostow, deputy assistant for national security.

Olmstead and McKone, only known survivors of the six-man crew of the RB47 plane downed by the Soviets had been held since July 1.

Kennedy announced at his Jan. 25 news conference the fliers had been released.

Dutchess Buys 600

recommended immediate purchase of the Wilcox property and requested and received permission of the Board to seek options on other parcels as prospective park sites, but no binding contracts can be taken until supervisors authorize them.

Other Recommendations

Other recommendations of the committee on parks were:

1.—Seek an option on acreage owned by Theodore Cross and Franklin Evert, adjoining the property of Fred Grochau off the Taconic parkway near Tyrrell Lake. This site would be purchased by the county on its own so that its use could be restricted.

2.—Take options on the Grochau property, which consists of 660 acres and would be purchased at a figure not to exceed $95,000, with the state contributing 75 per cent of the cost and the county 25 per cent.

3.—Seek the state's aid in deeding to the county, as a gift, part of the surplus property at the Wassissaugo State School.

4.—Seek options on land along the Little Wappingers Creek, between Salt Point and Clinton Hollow, which would be purchased by the county and restricted.

IT'S BETTER with SILLER BRAND BUTTER

WASHINGTON (AP)—West Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt has predicted that if the Soviet Union should force the West out of the free section of Berlin an anti-Communist uprising could break out in East Germany, reliable sources report.

Brandt, the Social Democratic candidate for chancellor of West Germany, repeated his prediction Wednesday that a new crisis will not develop over West Berlin in the near future.

At a news conference after he met with President Kennedy, Brandt, however, dodged a question about published reports he had told Kennedy's aides about mounting discontent in East Germany.

He said he had not read any such reports.

Brandt met last Friday with Walt W. Rostow, Kennedy's deputy special assistant in charge of national security, and on Sunday with Paul Nitze, assistant secretary of defense for international security.

This was Brandt's line of thinking in talking with the Kennedy aides, the informants reported: The East German Communist regime is extremely worried about the constant outflow of its citizens through West Berlin, especially about the fleeing of skilled workers, doctors, and other intellectuals. This, the Communists contend, endangers their zone's economic plans and could frustrate East German commitments toward other bloc countries.

Therefore the regime of Walter Ulbricht is pressing Moscow to do something about it and close the gap on the Iron Curtain by forcing the West to give up the free part of Berlin.

Should Ulbricht succeed—a possibility Brandt believes to exist only in theory—then the situation in East Germany would become critically explosive and, with a little encouragement from the federal republic, could lead to a revolution.

Pro-Rebels Lose Industry and Laotian Town, Are Turned Back

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laotian military sources claimed royal troops recaptured Muong Kassy today, turning back a pro-Communist rebel offensive headed toward Vientiane.

The reported advance gave encouragement to the pro-Western government's move to work with former neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma in trying to negotiate with the rebels. The rebels have shown no inclination to talk peace as long as their offensive was in high gear.

Muong Kassy, about 100 miles north of Vientiane, fell to pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops Friday. It was the southernmost point in a Red offensive set in motion March 7 with the overrunning of Sala Phou Koun, important road junction on the north-south highway leading to the rebel-occupied Plain de Jarres in central Laos.

Rebel forces encountered little resistance in retaking Muong Kassy, military men here reported. They said a battalion of Pathet Lao troops had pulled out in face of superior royal forces commanding the surrounding heights.

Company Spends $8,735,000

Including the $783,000 cost of acquiring the Cruger's Island property and associated transmission rights-of-way, Central Hudson's 1960 gas and electric construction program totaled $8,735,000. Among other large projects completed last year was the installation of a 16-mile natural gas transmission line between Kingston and Poughkeepsie.

The utility expects to invest another $7,700,000 in new construction in 1961 and tentatively plans to finance this program by issuing approximately $6 million in new securities in the form of preferred stock.

The report states that Central Hudson "is increasing its support of research in the field of nuclear energy for the generation of electric power." In 1960 it joined with six other New York electric companies in the formation of Empire State Atomic Development Associates, Inc., to conduct an intensive nuclear research and development program looking toward the design and ultimate construction of a large atomic electric generating station in the state. It also continues participation in the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant project, under construction in Michigan and expected to be completed this year.

Studying All Aspects

Early in 1960, Central Hudson and six other major electric utilities in the state organized Empire State Power Resources Associates "to study all aspects of electric power generation and transmission to meet the future power requirements of the State at the lowest possible cost."

Sales of electricity and gas to regular customers in 1960 each increased seven per cent over 1959 and revenues in both categories were up five per cent for the year. When a $1,446,000 increase in sales of surplus electric capacity and energy to neighboring utilities is taken into account, 1960 operating revenues total $36,696,843, nine per cent above the 1959 figure.

Central Hudson's net income rose $205,481 to $5,632,705 in 1960. On a per share basis, the 1960 earnings are equivalent to $1.47 on the 3,369,228 common shares outstanding at year end as compared to $1.41 on 3,076 fewer shares at the end of 1959.

Farm Worker Is Held in Orange As Wife Slayer

(MIDDLETOWN, N. Y. (AP)—A farm worker has been charged with manslaughter in the death of his wife whose body was found in a creek near here.

State Police said Neil Simmons, 37, a Negro, told them he beat his wife to death with a slab of wood after they had argued. The couple were talking to their home at nearby New Hampton early Monday when the argument flared, police said. They quoted Simmons as saying he grabbed a board and struck his wife, Eureka, 32.

Later, he called police to the scene, telling them she needed medical attention.

Will Hear Youth

308 Willis Avenue, the Bronx. Authorities said Danc, Brown and Allen are AWOL from Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The five youths were captured by neighborhood posmen, two Wallkill prison guards and a town constable, after they were surprised in the act of burglarizing the drug store, according to police.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Some wide moves in selected issues highlighted a mixed stock market early this afternoon. The over-all tendency was toward the downside.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .30 at 238.10 with industrials off 1.00, rails up .30 and utilities down .20. Gains and losses of most key stocks were small, few going to as much as a point. More speculative issues produced moves of 4 points or so either way.

While long-range optimism about a business upturn continued, there was little in the current news to swing interest to the cyclical stocks. Big Three motors were down slightly, oils off on balance and steels narrowly irregular. Most chemicals declined. Many leading rails showed no change.

Gains of about a point were made by Pfizer, U.S. Gypsum and United Aircraft.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .217 at 662.27. Corporate bonds declined in moderate trading. U.S. government bonds were off slightly in slow transactions.

Billion Contract Goes to Lockheed For Jet Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has awarded a billion-dollar contract for development and production of a new jet transport plane. The action is aimed at improving U.S. ability to move troops swiftly to any distant trouble spot.

The contract, announced by the White House Monday, calls for Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to develop a long-range, high-speed jet cargo and troop carrier planes and build more than 100 at its Marietta, Ga., plant.

The first planes are expected to be ready by mid-1964. President Kennedy has given high priority to the problem of improving the armed forces' capability for fighting so-called "brush fire" wars, where nuclear weapons would not be used.

The plane, known as the SOR182 will replace older aircraft flown by the Military Air Transport Service.

Specifications call for the new transport to carry troops or heavy cargo at speeds of 440 to 500 nautical miles an hour for distances ranging up to 5,500 nautical miles, according to the load carried.

The plane will be powered by four turbo-fan engines and a pressurized cabin will permit carrying troops at altitudes of over 25,000 feet.

Bias Charge Is Denied Against Negro at Milne

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The president of the State University College of Education in Albany denies that the college's Milne school discriminated against a Negro child.

President Evan Collins says a charge filed with the State Commission Against Discrimination is "unfair, unfounded and untrue."

The complaint said a girl had been denied admission to seventh grade because she was a Negro.

Milne is a junior and senior high school where students at the college practice teaching. The Milne faculty is from the college.

"We don't know anything about the case," Collins said Monday. "No complaint has been filed with us. I regret the public attention that has been called to this charge, which is unfair, unfounded and untrue. When the facts are known I hope that similar attention will be given to the findings."

The president said the school admits 36 boys and 36 girls to the seventh grade each year and has a waiting list of more than 200. No student is scheduled for admission in September who filed his application later than 1967, he said.

Collins was supported by Edward Kennell, director of the Albany Inter-Racial Council. Kennell said the complaint was "absolutely in the wrong from my knowledge of the school." There is now one Negro pupil attending the school.

A SCAD spokesman said that the complainant, who was not identified, "also states that she believes only one Negro student has ever been admitted. Although other Negroes have applied."

Dr. Theodore Fossieck, school principal, said:

"We give priority to brothers and sisters of pupils already enrolled in the school."

Billion Contract Goes to Lockheed For Jet Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has awarded a billion-dollar contract for development and production of a new jet transport plane. The action is aimed at improving U.S. ability to move troops swiftly to any distant trouble spot.

The contract, announced by the White House Monday, calls for Lockheed Aircraft Corp. to develop a long-range, high-speed jet cargo and troop carrier planes and build more than 100 at its Marietta, Ga., plant.

The first planes are expected to be ready by mid-1964. President Kennedy has given high priority to the problem of improving the armed forces' capability for fighting so-called "brush fire" wars, where nuclear weapons would not be used.

The plane, known as the SOR182 will replace older aircraft flown by the Military Air Transport Service.

Specifications call for the new transport to carry troops or heavy cargo at speeds of 440 to 500 nautical miles an hour for distances ranging up to 5,500 nautical miles, according to the load carried.

The plane will be powered by four turbo-fan engines and a pressurized cabin will permit carrying troops at altitudes of over 25,000 feet.

Old Timer's Civil War Notes

Well it looks from here as though every American who has forgotten much of what he learned in school or from reading historical novels about the Civil War is going to have his memory refreshed on the subject before this Centennial Year of the Great Fratricidal Struggle is ended. Everyone who reads the papers and magazines, watches TV, listens to the radio or goes to the movies will learn something about the "bloodiest of all wars" in which Americans who fought side by side in three earlier wars, now hurled themselves in thousands against each other for four long years with a fury and intensity that perhaps has never been equaled.

So, now, we celebrate, not the start nor yet the finish of that war but rather the solidarity which it brought about. The sectional bitterness which persisted through decades following the Great War has all but disappeared; the heaven which had its incipency in the Spanish American affair, worked through two World Wars until at long last, American boys could say "Hello there Buddy!" even as their soldier ancestors in our three American Foreign wars could greet their fellows with "Hi, Comrade!"—and mean it.

Americans are intrigued and fascinated by the Civil War. Your Old Timer earlier in the winter browsed around in a shop which specialized in antiques but had in stock about every other second-hand thing you might, or might not think of, including books of which there were probably 500 or more. He remarked to the proprietor that doubtless there would be a lot more calls for Civil War books than formerly. "Well," he replied, "I suppose so but I never have been able to stock enough books, guns, caps, powder flasks and other relics of that period to supply all comers, and they don't stick around very long when I do get them."

Well, this dealer did have a

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION HOLY NAME BREAKFAST—Following the 8 a. m. Mass Sunday at Immaculate Conception Church, the Holy Name Society, which received annual Holy Communion, attended breakfast in White Eagle Hall. Seated at the speakers' table were (l-r) Henry J. Joseph Sieczek, pastor of the church and moderator of the society, and Frank J. C. W. muzzle-loading musket such as the Federal Government ordered 125,000 of and had the barrels cut down about half, presumably to facilitate handling in close combat—when grasped by the barrel and used as a club, for instance—or for units to supplement the use of sabres. The book shelves revealed a copy of Gen. Phil Sheridan's Personal Memoirs, Vol. 2, Circa 1888. This one, O.T. bought, the price of $2 being compatible with a Senior Citizen's wallet and budget. But another, and much larger tome, 11x16 inches, with over 500 pages of battle scenes drawings and text matter, was something else again. The man said "Thirty dollars for that one." However, the Frank Leslie Illustrated History of which he said, a copy is in the New York City public library, probably is worth much more than that—and it's probably gone now, too.

The third book was Vol. 2 of a weighty summary of surgical and medical cases put out by the U. S. Army surgeon general's office. Here was recorded hundreds of cases giving in minute detail the operations and treatments of all type wounds, the names of the casualties and of the surgeons on the case. Circa 1883. Not a very pleasant book to read but you'll wonder if any one did go through that war without being all shot or carved up.

The poor dealer—whatever will be do now, in this Centennial Year, with nary a book touching on and appertaining to The Big Subject? Why, the man said himself that calls for CV books are only exceeded by those for Ulster, Greene and Delaware County Histories. He's got real trouble. C.A.W.

Italy to Protest U. S. Deportation Of Undesirables

NEW YORK — The Italian Government has had its fill of American gangsters deported to their homeland.

Some 2,500 of these undesirables, most of whom left Italy as children, have been returned by the American immigration service. They include such big names as Lucky Luciano.

The Italians complain that a large part of their police force is kept busy watching the activities of the deportees, many of whom return to the trades they learned in the U. S. prostitution, narcotics, liquor racketeering.

So, The Insider's Newsletter says, Italy's Government will register a strong, official protest when and if the United States decides to deport racketeer Frank Costello.

75 Prominent Citizens to Head Easter Seal Drive

CHICAGO — More than 75 prominent American men and women have joined the fight against crippling by accepting sponsorship of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, it was announced here today.

Serving throughout the year, these sponsors will lend their strength and leadership to the Easter Seal Society's $18 million service program providing specialized medical care and therapeutic treatment in all 50 states for nearly a quarter million crippled children and adults. Sponsors are also lending strong endorsement to the 1961 Easter Seal Campaign that opened March 2 and continues through April 2, Easter Sunday.

Also be part of the rally. Although the rally is geared for teens, all may attend.

"NEWSPAPERS... THE MOST EFFECTIVE MEDIUM ON THE 1961 HORIZON."

so says William F. Siegel, Advertising Director of Schick, Inc.

Here is one more instance of the resurging interest among multi-million-dollar advertisers in the daily newspaper as the major advertising medium.

Like some other major advertisers, Schick, Inc. has recently rediscovered the effectiveness of the daily newspaper as the basic advertising medium. In announcing this development, William F. Siegel, Schick's advertising director, said, "We will obtain our impact in top markets by completely dominating one medium...an advertising medium that is guaranteed to give us a positive return for advertising dollars invested..."

More and more advertisers are rediscovering newspapers' basic strength—that newspapers move merchandise. In today's market, advertisers need a medium that delivers maximum coverage and can be tailored to fit the advertiser's budget, deadline, selling and marketing requirements. As Mr. Siegel explained, "We're sure that newspaper advertising works for Schick. We enjoyed success with our ads that ran prior to Christmas. We received reports that this advertising produced results that were felt immediately by retailers in every marketing area where these ads ran." Daily newspapers sell products—that's why all advertisers invested nearly $3,600,000,000 in daily newspapers in 1960. That's more than they invested in radio, television, magazine and outdoor advertising combined.

Paltz Lions Club Forms Eye Bank

The New Paltz Lions Club, although active in the sight conservation program since its inception, is now forming and eye bank sub-station here.

Dr. Harri Janssen, who has been associated with the North Eastern New York Sight Conservation Society for six years, is heading the newly formed sub-station.

Douglas O'Mally, a former executive secretary and now a member of the advisory staff of the Northeastern New York Sight Conservation Society, will speak to the local Lions at their next meeting March 15. His talk will inaugurate the new program and explain the procedures and steps necessary for a sub-station eye bank here.

One of the important functions of the International Lions Club is its participation in the sight conservation effort. Each year, the club works on such projects as, "Blind Seals", the profits from which goes to support many of the blind organizations and supply needy children with proper eye glasses, free of charge.

Another of the worthwhile ways that the Lions Club helps the blind is through its activity in the eye bank project. Human eyes, removed from the dead, can be used for correction of the corneal defects and retinal detachments.

In the United States, there is a need for about 3,000 pairs of eyes per year. The supply is limited to approximately 1,500 pairs. This means one half of the people who could be helped are still in need.

Eye defects may strike anyone at any time. Until recently there was no way to correct most of the cases of blindness. Today, through corneal transplants and transfer of retinal fluid many people can be helped.

The East and West hands are not shown today because they don't really matter. South will be declarer at some number of no-trump. The logical number is six. He will start proceedings by winning the opening heart lead in dummy and taking the club finesse.

If it works he will be playing for seven but let's make it tough for South and have the club finesse lose.

Now he will need six tricks in spades and diamonds to make his slam. He also will have one outstanding best play at his disposal.

That play is to win the next trick in dummy; lead a spade and put in the ten. If the ten loses he is down one; if it holds he cashes the ace of spades and all his clubs, discarding a diamond from dummy. Then he takes the rest of the hearts, finishing up in dummy.

Now he lays down the king of spades. If East started with three spades the queen will drop. If East started with four or more diamonds he will have been squeezed out of protection for one suit or the other.

Many Pitfalls Strew Path Of Man Starting Business

With jobs scarcer, pay rises smaller, I'll bet many of you are dreaming the great American dream—a business of your own.

What does it take to be the boss? What are the ingredients for success? What are the pitfalls?

I had expected to find that you need money, lots of it, to get into business on your own. This is not necessarily true.

Door-to-door selling, one of the oldest ways of being on your own, is now a $2.5 billion industry with 1.5 million participants. It requires no investment on the part of an individual when he handles the products of well-known companies.

The profits can be handsome, ranging from weekly commissions of $30 for part-timers to $200 upwards for full-time sellers, according to the National Association of Direct Selling Companies in Winona, Minn.

A cash outlay of $6,000 to $8,000, with three years to pay the balance, is needed to put you into one of the newest of businesses, coin-operated laundry and dry cleaning establishments. Some 30,000 such installations are now in operation. The amount of money needed to run such an enterprise depends upon what you will have to pay for rent and how many machines you will install in a single store.

According to Jack Coleman, head of Cincinnati's Econ-O-Wash, one can net $350 to $400 or more monthly without even working the establishment full-time. Merely get someone to check your shop several times daily, to clean up and report on any machine not in good working order.

On the favorable side of the above businesses is the fact that they can be started on a part-time basis without perhaps disrupting your source of income until certain of success.

If you are striking out on your own without any other source of income, you will need considerably more capital, not merely for the business itself, but for living expenses. You should have savings equal to a minimum of three months' living costs, say the experts.

The most important ingredient cited for success is the capacity for hard work. Thinking you can loaf leads to failure.

Principal reason for business failures are:

- Lack of knowledge of competitive conditions.
- Lack of technical skill such as not knowing how to purchase raw materials or to stock a retail establishment.

- Selection of a poor location for your plant or store.
- Insufficient capital or credit.

Before you start on your own, experts advise that you know what your exact costs will be for one to two years. Frequently you will have to prepay rent, insurance or goods purchased for several months ahead. You should figure your credit costs and taxes, the wages you may be paying and promotional expenses.

One expert I interviewed warns that published figures on business failures don't show the true story because he says that often an entrepreneur headed for failure will sell out, usually at a considerable loss, before he actually fails.

So do careful research, with professional guidance, before launching any contemplated venture.

Fair Street Reformed

Redeemer Lutheran

DR. HENRY G. BOVENKERK

Guest speaker at midweek Lenten services Wednesday evening at the Fair Street Reformed Church will be the Rev. Henry G. Bovenkerk, executive secretary of the Japan International Christian University Foundation and the Board of World Mission of the Reformed Church in America.

His topic will be Our Church's Mission. A covered dish supper will be held preceding the speaker's program at 6:15 p. m. in the parish hall. The Rev. Edwin C. Coon, pastor, will be in charge of the service. A program for children will be held during the service.

Dr. Bovenkerk has been a member of the board of directors of the Japan International Christian University Foundation since its very early days. He has been the chairman of the finance committee and active on other important committees of the foundation.

Dr. Bovenkerk was one of the first missionaries to return to Japan after World War II and contributed to the re-establishment of relationships between the Protestant churches in Japan and those in North America. From 1947 to 1953, he was secretary of the Interboard Committee for Christian Work in Japan and in the liaison capacity with the United Church of Christ in Japan.

He served eight North American denominations: The United Church of Canada, the Congregational Christian Churches, the Methodist Church, the Evangelical United Brethren Church, the Reformed Church in America, the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., the Evangelical and Reformed Church, and the Christian Churches (Disciples). All of these are among the fifteen denominations represented on the board of directors of the Japan International Christian University Foundation, Inc.

Dr. Bovenkerk grew up in the Reformed Church in America and received his education in its institutions. His missionary service in Japan, however, was under the appointment of the board of foreign missions of the former Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. (now the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America).

Dr. Bovenkerk is a member of the Japan Society, the Asia Society and several other organizations related to East Asia.

A summary of the history of the Passion will be given by various members of the congregation. In the closing, a period is planned for individual petitions.

Bloomington Reformed

Lenten services will be conducted Wednesday 8 p. m. at the Bloomington Dutch Reformed Church, Bloomington.

The Rev. Richard L. Brown's sermon is entitled "What a Christian Believes About the Church."

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets, will hold its regular midweek Lenten service on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The order for vespers and the traditional reading of the history of the passion of Christ will be read by the pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, DD who will also present the Lenten meditation on the topic, "A Heart for the Body."

Music for the service will include the organ selections, "A Lenten Meditation" by Dittich and Andante Grazioso by Smart, played by Mrs. Lester Decker and the anthem "Incline Thine Ear" by Himmel presented by the senior choir conducted by Leonard Stine.

Following the service there will be a Lenten fellowship period in the assembly room of the church to which worshippers are invited. The program this week will feature a new motion picture, "Date with Revolution," depicting the Africa of 1961 with its earth-shaking political changes and new allegiances, together with the challenge to Lutheran cooperative work being carried on there. Coffee will be served during the program.

After the fellowship hour the Redeemer Women's Club will hold its meeting in the parish house to which candy for the old people in the infirmary will be brought. The youth choir will rehearse at 7 o'clock and the senior choir following the service.

Pastor Ernest W. Helmke will be participating in the Lenten service at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp, Wednesday evening.

Clinton Avenue Methodist

The fifth in a series of Lenten midweek services will be held Wednesday 7:30 p. m. at the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, 122 Clinton Avenue.

The general theme of the series is Paul's Sureties. The topic of this week's devotional address by Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell, minister, will be Paul's Sureness of God's Ability to Handle Adversity. The fifth motion picture in a series portraying the life of the great apostle will be shown following the address. Wednesday's film is entitled, "The Third Missionary Journey."

The Gem Society will have charge of the ushering and will conduct the worship service. Others participating will be Miss Rebecca Smith who will read the scripture lesson, Miss Clara Saulpaugh who will offer the evening prayer, and Mrs. Alma Becker will receive the offering. The special musical number will be a duet by Rex Dewey and Dale Natoli who will sing, "Take Up Thy Cross, Mrs. Clyde Herbert Snell is organist."

The service will be held in the sanctuary and the public may attend.

West Camp Lutheran

Ernest Helmke, assistant pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Kingston, will be the guest speaker at the Wednesday midweek Lenten service at 8 p. m. in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp. The Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith is pastor of the West Camp Church.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Dr. H. Diephuis and wife, Midland Park, N. J., were weekend callers in the hub of the reservoir country. The couple were making their first visit of the winter to their summer place at Phenicia.

Harry Wikane of the Stone Ridge area was in town last Thursday. The World War II veteran is a salesman with the J. H. Byrne Company, Kingston.

George Gulnac, former Shokan boy, is employed at a missile plant in the Los Angeles area.

Mrs. George N. Salthouse of Cooperstown, RD, was among the Sunday visitors to the local free museum.

Water in the Ashokan Reservoir at last report was about 10 feet below the normal flowline. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Christensen write local friends that they like their new home in the suburbs of Danville, Va., where they located last fall. They have had very little snow in their section of the Old Dominion and have been able to sit outdoors nearly every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schlotter, Saugerties were village center callers Sunday.

The horse sheds in the rear of the O. S. Baptist meetinghouse at Halcottville, collapsed under the heavy weight of snow in early February. Built in 1866, the sheds were similar to the sheds 50-feet long at the century old Baptist Church here which were sold to Clyde Winchell and razed about 10 years ago. Many of the hand hewn oak timbers from the local structure remain in sound condition today.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Deubler, Warwarsing, called on local friends last Tuesday. The couple have been in the South all winter. They first went to Biloxi, Miss., where their son, a colonel in the Air Corps, is based at Keesler Field; later they sojourned at Clearwater, Fla., and motored to other West Coast points of interest including Fort Myers.

A new Brownie Troop, No. 83, reportedly has been formed at Ashokan with Jane Bailey as leader and Mrs. George Refflet as assistant leader.

Robert Vollmer, one of Olive's most enthusiastic Civil War fans, is the owner of several bound volumes of Frank Leslie's battle scenes, "drawn by artists at the front, and current news items on the progress of the war in the 1860's."

Frank Vernon, Hurley town official and retired New York Central Railroad signals chief, called on friends in the village Sunday.

Samuel Mahaffy, Oneonta, one time Ulster and Delaware Railroad mail clerk, died Feb. 18 in Binghamton at the age of 95 years.

The passing of this old timer conjures up nostalgic memories of the days when mail bags were "hooked" into cars at Shokan depot while the Rip Van Winkle Flyer and other crack express trains roared at high speed through the village flats and into the upper Esopus Creek Valley.

Waits for 39 Weeks

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — It took him 39 weeks, but Arnold Brey's nerve held and he got a bargain. Brey bought a refrigerator for $274.95 after a local store had marked the price down $5 per week. The price started at $469.95. Brey said he would have waited longer, but he was afraid someone else might buy the refrigerator. The mark-down was used as a sales stunt.

Older Drivers Are Asset Or Hazard in Traffic

If you are an older person who drives a car, Elbert Hugunin, specialist in the National Safety Council's traffic operations division, advises you to size up your abilities and "exercise self-discipline."

Writing in "Traffic Safety," Hugunin points out that studies in three states, California, North Carolina and New York, and traffic accident record systems supervisors have revealed that the older driver is having too many accidents of certain types.

"He tends to get into difficulty during turning movements, at points involving right-of-way, or similar situations in which a high degree of perception, problem-solving ability and immediate reaction are required," Hugunin reports. "Involvement in speeding, operating under the influence of intoxicating liquors and other recognized hazardous actions are relatively low."

If you make a "frank appraisal" of your driving status, you may find it wise to:

- Try to adjust to the changing conditions under which you drive, instead of resisting necessary adaptations.

- Critically review your perception, reaction time, judgment time, co-ordination traffic appraisals and try to maintain the highest level of efficiency possible.

- Recognize the need for more supervision in your driving.

- Change or limit driving operations so as to cut down risks.

- Ask help to maintain good driving skills.

- Frankly admit that you are not qualified to drive and give up your driving privilege.

According to Hugunin, driver license administrators realize they can't rule off the highways all senior drivers who may not be topnotch operators. What's more, they don't want to take such action unless it's absolutely necessary.

"Some drivers can't be denied absolutely their driving privilege because their ability to live normally in society depends to a great extent on it," Hugunin points out. "Because they have no other transportation, they may have to drive to shopping centers, to church, to the homes of friends and relatives, to community events and to other activities."

However, Hugunin warns, older people who want to drive a car will find that they must face rigid regulations as the senior driver population increases.

"They should acquaint themselves with the program, adapt to its aims and accept its philosophy," Hugunin said. "Having equipped themselves in the best manner possible, they may reasonably expect to retain their driving privileges, with possible limitations, and to continue to be a useful member of society."

"The senior driver can be an asset in motor vehicle traffic."

To Purchase Land For Thruway Link With Canada Road

VIRGIL, Ont. (AP)—Land acquisition is getting under way for a four-mile highway that will link the New York State Thruway and the Queen Elizabeth Highway, the Department of Transport says.

Sullivan Lies,
Paar Contends$40,000 Suit Filed
Against Girl, 5

DETROIT (AP) — A $40,000 damage suit names Nancy McNamara, 5, as a defendant. It says Nancy was "inexperienced, unskilled and unqualified to ride a bicycle."

Alfred Winkler, 34, of suburban Livonia, sued fellow townsman Nancy and her parents Monday for injuries he said he suffered when struck by the girl's bicycle last May.

Attorney General,
Comptroller Favor
Claims Court Bill

ALBANY — Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz and State Comptroller Arthur Levitt recommended to the Legislature today a measure which would save the state approximately $120,000 yearly in interest costs.

The bill amends the Court of Claims Act in relation to judgments and their payment. Presently, in the case of an appeal, payment of the amount awarded by the Court of Claims must await the final determination of the appellate courts. During the time the appeal is pending, the state pays interest on the entire judgment.

Under the terms of the new proposal, when an appeal has been taken by either the claimant or the state or both, from all or part of a judgment, the comptroller, upon the recommendation of the attorney general, may deposit in a special account all or any part of the amount directed to be paid in the judgment. Interest on the amount deposited shall not be allowed from the expiration of 20 days after the comptroller has notified the claimant or his attorney that the comptroller is ready and willing to pay the amount deposited.

The attorney general and the comptroller stated that a very substantial saving to the state would result in interest charges on matters under appeal if the bill is enacted. The interest on about 3 million dollars, or $120,000 a year would be saved. This estimate does not include claims arising from construction under the new $75 million park program.

Atlas Flunks Again

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A more powerful model of the Atlas missile has failed for the fourth time in five test launchings—the latest an attempt at a record 9,942-mile flight into the India Ocean.

The 85-foot, intercontinental-range rocket blasted off Monday night, developed trouble in its main sustainer engine and plummeted into the ocean more than 200 miles down the Atlantic tracking range.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar said on the air Monday night that "Ed Sullivan is a liar"—and he challenged Sullivan to sue him for libel. Sullivan said he had no intention of suing.

Paar told his nationwide television audience that Sullivan did not tell the truth about the reason for cancellation of their scheduled TV debate. In a courtroom, under oath, Sullivan would have to tell the truth, Paar said, indicating this was the reason for his challenge.

Paar Welshed: Ed

Sullivan was to have debated Paar on Paar's NBC program Monday night over the question of performers' fees.

The debate was called off Monday afternoon, with each side blaming the other.

Sullivan, a newspaper columnist and star of his own show on CBS, said Paar had "welshed" on arrangements for the debate.

Paar said this was not true. He said Sullivan did not appear on the videotaped show before a studio audience because "he would commit suicide before an audience."

Paar said all of Sullivan's ground rules for the debate had been agreed to—with the exception of two points.

First, Paar wanted an audience.

Second, Paar said he wanted the debaters to be able to ask each other questions, to discuss their differences, rather than each make a formal statement and rebuttal.

Still for Debate

Asked to comment on Paar's statement, Sullivan said he did not intend to sue but would still like to debate.

"I won't tell a lie about Paar," he said. "Despite all the smoke-screen and all the publicity from NBC, this fellow walked out on the debate."

The argument came out into the open last week when Sullivan announced that any performer who appeared on Paar's low-budget late-hour telecast for the minimum of $320 would receive no more for appearing on Sullivan's Sunday night variety program.

Performers receive as much as $7,500 for appearing on Sullivan's show.

Pulse Rate Jumps

Flight, Is Report

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The pulse rate of X15 pilots doubles during flights, one of the fliers reports.

It happens, he said Monday, when the tiny plane is dropped from the wing of its B52 mother ship, when the rocket engine is stopped and when the sub-winged craft swoops in for a power-off landing at 200 miles an hour.

"The heart beat jumps from a normal of about 70 beats per minute to 140 or 160 beats at these times," Air Force Maj. Bob White told a news conference at the American Rocket Society meeting.

CONGO TROOP STRENGTH — The United Nations and rival leaders in the Congo are building up troop strength as civil war continues. Newsmap shows areas held by four Congolese strongmen, their estimated troop strength and the contingents of U.N. forces. Almost all Moroccan, Sudan, Indonesian and United Arab Republic soldiers have been withdrawn. Offsetting this, India has pledged 3,000 troops and Tunisia 600 more. Present alignment in Congo ranges Antoine Gizenga, successor to late Premier Patrice Lumumba of Oriental Province against President Moise Tshombe of Katanga, President Joseph Kasavubu of Leopoldville Province and Albert Kalonji of South Kasai Province.

His Future Is Not Even Clear to Him

Many Questions Unanswered
Yet on Nixon's Declaration

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only thing clear about Richard M. Nixon's political future is that it isn't clear at all, even to him.

The former vice president made a statement to Republicans which has been interpreted as meaning he won't run for governor in California in 1962.

There is one simple rule for deciding when a politician will not run for office. That's when he says: "I will not be a candidate under any circumstances."

Nixon's didn't go that far in telling California Republicans he will not be Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown's opponent in 1962.

What he said was: "I am not a candidate. I have no intention of being a candidate or instituting a draft."

Having no intention now and being persuaded later to run are not the same thing. And, while he said he would not start a move to draft him, he didn't say he would turn down a draft if someone else started it.

And he was even less precise about his ideas on running for the presidency again in 1964 or 1968, and understandably so.

The New York Times reported he told confidants he had no plans at present to run for the White House again.

But he conceded, the Times said, that his making a second try was not beyond the realm of possibility.

Simple Interpretation
There is a simple interpretation for this: Right now he's not sure of his prospects in 1964, so he's not sticking his neck out.

It's questionable that he will be in a position to do any picking or choosing in 1964 for he may be in the political discard by then.

He indicated in California he may take an active leadership role in the party. As the 1960 defeated presidential candidate he is, the so-called titular head of the party anyway. That could and may become an empty title.

When he spoke of his leadership he qualified it by saying he'd lead only "to the extent that fellow members of my party may desire me to do so."

Question on Leadership
Already there's some question about how welcome his leadership is.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, most vigorous spokesman for the Republicans' extreme right wing, apparently isn't willing to let Nixon call the shots just because he's supposed to be the leader.

He said if Nixon wants to be a power in the party he should run for something. Goldwater added: "Until he gets elected to some position, he's just going to be a Republican lawyer."

"If Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is re-elected next year he will be in a much better position to win the presidential nomination in 1964."

So, before Nixon has had time to look around, he's been told in effect: "Anything you get, you'll have to fight for."

Rockefeller, Nixon's only real rival in 1960, will, if re-elected governor of New York next year, be in a prime spot to grab for the big prize in 1964.

In one election after another, with only a couple of exceptions in the past two decades, voters have rejected the Republicans' conservatism.

Judging from this past experience the Democrats figure to win again in 1962 and 1964 unless the Kennedy administration turns out dismally or unless the Republicans get more progressive.

And Rockefeller, not Nixon, represents the progressive wing of the party.

Arrangements Set
For Seder Services

The education committee of the Talmud Torah Board met Monday to arrange for the first of two Seder services to be held Sunday, March 19, at the Jewish Community Center at 10:30 a. m.

Those children who attend Primary grades, taught by Mrs. Lotar Saluc and Mrs. Joseph Colen and Louis Klein are invited to attend the Model Seder in the sky-room of the Community Center, 265 Wall Street.

Other children who wish to participate in a Seder are also invited. Parents are also welcome.

The committee reports this is the final week to make orders for Passover candies and cakes offered and delivered by the Talmud Torah Board. Orders must be placed with Mrs. Sylvia Farber of Mrs. Morris Nussbaum by Friday, March 17.

Yields to Plea,
Salesman Fined

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A $25 fine was levied against a milk store salesman who yielded to a customer's pleas to sell him two loaves of bread Sunday "so his children could have some for breakfast."

A city law forbids Sunday food sales.

The customer was an off-duty clerk in the city police department. Officers arrested the salesman, B.J. Barclay, 72, a few minutes after the sale.

Woman, Another
Appear as School
Board Candidates

The fifth and sixth persons offering as prospective candidates for the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) appeared Monday night before the Nonpartisan Nominating Committee in the George Washington School.

One of these was a female, the first woman to offer as a candidate.

Final Is March 27
A final meeting at which prospective candidates may present themselves will be held at the Washington School on Monday, March 27.

At this time any candidate who has already made an appearance before the committee will be invited to appear a second time, if he should desire. He will be given an opportunity to present a brief prepared statement of not more than five minutes. A brief question and answer period will follow.

Two candidates for board vacancies will be elected by the committee on Wednesday night, March 29.

Persons interested in submitting their names for consideration as prospective candidates, are invited and urged to do so. Applications may be obtained from any member of the committee, the secretary, Mrs. Gifford Beal, or by writing to the Nonpartisan Nominating Committee, Post Office Box 181, Rondout Station, Kingston.

Applications may be presented until the final meeting of the series on March 27.

Two Terms to Expire

The terms of Robert Herzog, president, and Robert O'Reilly, vice-president, of the board, will expire this May. Prior to consolidation on Jan. 1, 1959, membership on the board was by mayoral appointment. With consolidation vacancies are now filled by election.

The Nonpartisan Nominating Committee will obtain the necessary signatures for the petitions required by the two candidates it decides to support. Should there be any opposition it will also assist its candidates in campaigning for election.

Negroes in Capital Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital is the only major American city where Negroes form a majority of the population, the Census Bureau said today.

The agency said preliminary data from the 1960 census shows that 411,737, or 33.9 per cent, of Washington's 763,956 residents are Negroes.

New York City has the largest number of Negroes, 1,087,931 or 14 per cent of the total population of 7,781,954.

Third Ward Will

Service Tablet

The Service War Tablet of the Third Ward was damaged during the heavy wind storm last year by lifting the roof, damaging the columns and breaking the two large name boards. This left only the huge World Globe and concrete base which will be moved from the private property of the Dederick Estate, located at Foxhall Avenue and Prince Street, possibly to the Triangle Square at Clifton and Highland Avenues.

It is necessary to formulate a committee to take care of this removal and added permanent improvements.

International Conference at Vassar Will Draw Noted Guests; Mrs. Roosevelt to Speak

The forthcoming international conference, to be held at Vassar College from March 19 to 24, will be attended by distinguished women from many parts of the world. Among the group will be Barbara Ward, British economist; Lakshmi Menon, Indian Deputy Minister of External Affairs; Alva Myrdal, Swedish Ambassador to India; Zahia Marzouk of the United Arab Republic; Aduke Moore of Nigeria; Hursene Subandrio of Indonesia; Margaret Ballinger of the Union of South Africa; and Parvin Birjandi of Iran. U. S. participants will include Susanne Langer, American philosopher; Vera Micheles Dean, foreign policy specialist; and Ralph J. Bunche, United Nations Under Secretary for Special Political Affairs.

The conference, the major event scheduled by Vassar to mark its centennial celebration this year, will have as its theme: "Emerging Values and New Directions of Present Day Societies—Their Implications for Education." On March 19, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will greet the participants, who will spend the following five days considering three main topics in relation to education: Economic and Social Development, Political Relationships and the Individual and Society.

Sarah Gibson Blanding, president of Vassar, has announced that the findings of the confederation will form the basis for a book to be written by Emmet Hughes, a former editor of Life Magazine and currently a senior advisor to the Rockefeller Brothers, Inc. "To achieve the aims of the conference," Miss Blanding has said, "genuine communication resting on complete respect for and acceptance of cultural and ideological differences is essential."

Among other events planned by Vassar to mark its one hundredth year in the field of higher education for women, will be a luncheon in honor of Miss Blanding to be held on March 18 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

West Hurley P-TA Gives Citation to Leading Citizen; Award Is Organization's First

At a recent meeting of the West Hurley P-TA, Clayton Vredenburg, who served as trustee of the West Hurley School for 29 years, was presented with the Jenkins Memorial Award. The presentation was made by the West Hurley P-TA president, Mrs. Andrew Horvath.

When Mr. Vredenburg served as trustee, the West Hurley School consisted of one room. Today it has eight rooms.

Mr. Vredenburg also served with the three-man board of education for three years. In 1933 he became associated with the sheriff's office where he now serves as undersheriff.

Other organizational work accomplished by Mr. Vredenburg was for the West Hurley District No. 1 Fire Company about 1951. Finally organized in 1952.

Mr. Vredenburg served on the Board of Fire Commissioners five years. He has also served as trustee of the West Hurley Methodist Church for a number of years.

Married to the former Gertrude VanEtten, he has a son, Kenneth and daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Howland, and several grandchildren.

The West Hurley P-TA, considered to be one of the most active organizations in the district, also observed Founder's Day at its February meeting. Guest speakers for the occasion were Candida Bing of Italy, an exchange student now studying at Kingston High School, and Linda Schneider, who spent last summer in Europe as an exchange student.

Mrs. James Levins, program chairman, introduced the speakers.

Parents: Groom Children To Step Into Your Shoes

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"The greatest inducement to growth in children is the privilege of being around exciting parents—parents who help kindle desire in children by enjoying themselves as 'whole' adults."

"It is no sign of health to expect providence, creature comfort, or special schooling to give the child an appetite for adult roles in life when, as the child can plainly see, these roles are not particularly enjoyable to the adults themselves."

Those two sentences from the new book, "The Importance of Being Imperfect" by John Robert Clarke, ought to make a lot of parents take a closer look at themselves and at their children.

When we buy junior a car in high school and get his first evening dress at age 14—aren't we actually saying, "You don't need to wait to grow up to have adult privileges. You can have them right now—without adult responsibilities."

We're saying the same thing when we let them start going steady in junior high or racing around at night without letting us know where they are, when we fancy up their rooms with their own TV sets and their own telephone, when we say "How much do you need?" rather than "Here is what you can have" when we hand out money to them.

And all the while that we are making their lives carefree and easy—we are complaining about our own lot. We're overworked, burdened with taxes, disillusioned with politics, bogged down with responsibility. We even sometimes go so far as to say to teen-agers, "This is the happiest time of your life."

So why should they want to grow up and enter the adult world when as children they can have most adult privileges—without any adult responsibility?

We had better think about this—and seriously, too—before we turn into a nation of adults who wish they were children and of children who don't see any advantages in the adult world.

Ruth Millett has good words for grownups in her new booklet, "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y. (All rights reserved. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

EATING IN PRESENCE OF VISITORS

Q: We have a very late dinner and I usually have a cup of tea and some crackers in the afternoon to tide me over until dinner time. A great many of my friends never eat in between meals. Should any of them come in to see me in the afternoon, would it be proper for me to have my usual snack even though they do not have anything, or would it be considered rude to eat in their presence?

A: Explain that because of your late dinner you are going to have a snack and ask your visitors if they will join you, and even if they don't it will be proper for you to eat in their presence.

Double Wedding of Sister and Brother

Q: My twin brother and I are going to be married at a double wedding, and we are in doubt as to how the invitations should be worded. Are two sets of invitations sent out—one by my parents and the other by my brother's fiancée's parents—or is one invitation sent? If so, how should it be worded?

A: One invitation is sent and the wording is:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones and

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Grey request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughters

Mary Anne Jones to

Mr. Jonathan Brown and

Caroline Grey to

Mr. Henry Jones, Jr. etc.

Gift for the Flower Girl

Q: The gifts for my wedding attendants are all bought with the exception of one, and that is something for my little niece, aged four, who is to be a flower girl. Will you please help me out by giving me some suggestions as to what to buy for her?

A: A locket or a charm bracelet would be most suitable.

Jewelry Clue to Fashion Sense; Long Necklaces on Scene With Long Earrings

Fashion may be a fact of feminine intuition, but it still takes a sixth sense for a gal to be chic. This season jewelry is the clue to this all important imaginative "extra," according to the Fashion Coordination Institute.

There are many different and fresh new fashion points about spring and summer jewelry, that if used correctly, will change the whole "look" of an outfit.

A daytime "look" may be achieved with jewelry combination in gold and beads. A bright fresh bead necklace will provide the strong color accent, and a gold pin, worn either through the necklace or dead center and high inside it, will accent the necklace and provide the focal point of the costume.

Big, beautiful glittering pins matched to earrings will dress up any outfit this season for another completely different look. The exciting spring pins have been designed in wonderful life-like floral motifs, and unusual abstract designs that will provide the magic formula for highlighting a dress. Paired pins, worn high on the shoulder and hip will accent the new long line of the coat and suit silhouette.

For a tailored effect, gold jewelry, real or costume, will convert an outfit into still another "look." Long elegant chain necklaces are perfect fill-ins for the new collarless necklines. Multiple gold bracelets are a warm color accent and again, important fill-ins for shortened sleeves on coats, suits and sleeveless dresses.

And for the fun and excitement of trying the "high fashion" look, of the season there is jewelry for this mood. In the manner of the 1920's, the latest look from Paris, select a long 29-inch necklace with the new "French drop" matched to elaborate drop earrings.

There are jewelry accents for every costume effect if a gal has the fashion formula. And a sixth sense for jewelry fashion will do wonders for a wardrobe and even more for a feminine ego.

Long Necklaces

Necklace fashion has taken the plunge to new, startling, unexpected lengths that dip to the waist and mark themselves as a new 1961 spring fashion reports the Fashion Coordination Institute. Keeping in mind the spirit of the clothes—the moving waistlines, easy, lightly fitting dresses, skirts that spill out fullness in pleating and paneling,—the flat collarless necklines... these free-moving necklaces are instantly appealing to the new spring silhouette and a trend setter in jewelry fashion.

Long 30 to 45-inch lengths sport gold tasseled pendants, elegant stone-set pendants, bead pendants set in textured gold. This hanging decorative "French drop" is a glorious focal point to the necklace and looks new and different for spring. Plain graduated lengths are long enough to knot, or to try an unexpected fashion trick of pinning a giant floral pin through itself at the waist or just below the neckline.

In a season when color is the fashion and silhouette remains understated, these new long necklaces combine multiple strands of colored beads for a strong accent in an adventure-some fashion spirit. Dramatic combinations contrast clear bright mixtures of coral, sharp orange, and citron; deep turquoise, intense bright blue and cool green; or the new hot pink, with rose and lavender.

New necklace fashions all add up to a note of dramatic but elegant fashion for spring accessories... a necessary note to balance the simplicity of the clothes for an exciting overall fashion picture.

Drop Earrings

There will be no dampened spirits with the season's reigning jewelry fashion, predicts the Fashion Coordination Institute. Shower drop earrings have taken the fashion world by storm for a gay, young, dramatic jewelry fashion.

The short, smooth hair styles and bare collarless necklines in dresses and suits have made the longer earring possible reports the Institute.

The drop earring may be a simple, single drop in bright colorful beads for casual wear, or an elegant oversized pearl drop for evening. Looped drops, and long skinny drops in gold may double for daytime or evening. Combined with a pin or new longer necklace the drop earring makes both sense and fashion. In any variation, this new earring is different for spring and is right with the easy clothes that have a look of movement to them.

USMA Band Concert Set for This Sunday At West Point

The U. S. Military Academy Band, under the direction of its Commanding Officer, Major William H. Schempf, will present an all-Tchaikovsky concert this coming Sunday, March 19 at 3:45 p. m. in the West Point Army Theatre. The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

This is the third in the Band's winter series of concerts this year. It will feature SP5 Robert A. Spillman playing Tchaikovsky's Piano Concerto No. 1 in B-Flat Minor.

Specialist Spillman, a native of Berea, Kentucky, earned his degrees of Bachelor of Music and Master of Music of the University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music. He won many piano contests while in school, including the coveted National Piano Teachers Guild Artist Award. He has been pianist with the Rochester Philharmonic, the Rochester Civic, and the Eastman-Rochester orchestras, and has appeared as soloist with the last two on Mercury records.

Sunday's concert will open with Tchaikovsky's Overture, Fantasy, Romeo and Juliet, a composition which purportedly grew out of the composer's emotional upset after having been rejected by the French soprano, Desirée Artot. The following is Tchaikovsky's tragic love story. The major and concluding work on the program will be Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4 in F-Minor. This symphony, which Tchaikovsky dedicated to his "beloved friend" and patroness, Madame von Meck, ranks as one of the most popular ever written. Sunday's concert will mark the premiere of the composer's first masterwork in its entirety by a band.

Letter Supports OCS Bond Issue

The following letter has been submitted for publication by Frank Schlesinger of Chichester and deals with the forthcoming bond issue in the Ontario Central Schools District.

"I heard it said: 'In many cases the trouble with children is their parents.'"

"This thought may have been inspired by headlines in last Thursday's issue of the Ontario Record which read in very large type on the front page, 'Organize Group to Protest OCS New Bond Issue.'"

And another smaller article headed 'Plan Rally to Protest Bond Issue' at Hanover Mt. Lodge by a Democratic and Republican rally and dinner in West Shokan. A few area businessmen, taxpayers and voters banded together, it says, to protest the bond issue. The affair will be by invitation only. Evidently it's a private fight against our children, who else? And what do these misinformed want? Is it to defeat the right of our children to a seat in a classroom? Or are a dissident few seeking to befuddle the truth by trying to defeat a program to relieve overcrowding in our schools?"

"The fact has been established that a serious shortage of classrooms exists and a remedy has been proposed."

"In view of the above, political power and position pose a threat to the welfare of our children, unless both parties agree to unify their efforts constructively rather than destructively."

"Harmony in the ranks of voters creates a community harmony that benefits everyone. A 'statement' binding both parties to their responsibility to agree on the necessity for better educational facilities is paramount, especially at this time when the need is so urgent."

"Shall our children be made a political pawn by a small group of individuals whose fear is a small tax spread over the Ontario School District to be amortized over a 20-year period? This economy move will save our taxpayers a sizeable amount of money."

"It is far more economical to pay an annual sum for new construction in which you have an equity and eventually own in 20 years, than it is to pay the same annual amount for increased transportation and maintenance under double sessions. In the latter case it is pouring money down the drain."

"A 'yes' vote by the majority of the district voters on April 10 will guarantee success. If you're not registered, please do so on April 1st or 3rd... FRANK SCHLESINGER."

OCS Cafeteria

Head Replies to Dave Garroay

The following letter written by Betty Jane Barringer, Ontario Central School cafeteria director, is an answer to a recent question by NBC star Dave Garroay: "What are you doing for your country?" His question was based on the Presidential Kennedy's remark in the inaugural address "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country."

"The letter to Garroay follows: What are we doing for our country... We are in School Lunch."

School Lunch—What picture do those words bring to your mind? At Ontario Central School itself, where most of the children come to school on buses, we have a captive school lunch group. All students must eat in the lunchroom. Daily the seven cooks who work with me present to the students two types of meals for their approval and well-being. These meals follow the pattern set by the National School Lunch Program—this suggest 2 oz. protein, 1/4 c of fruit or vegetable or both, 1 slice bread, 2 butter and 1 c milk. We feed an average of 74 per cent of the students on any given day.

Our central school building opened in September, 1952. School lunch was new to most pupils and the idea took a little while to catch on. From no school lunch in 1952 to approximately $100,000 worth of school lunch business in 8 schools in 1961 shows a good advancement in value not only to the well-being of the student, but in material well-being to the business world, local and otherwise.

School lunch provides student training in the kitchen for any student over 14 who desires to earn a small salary and a great deal of experience. Some of our best helpers have gone on to advanced technical schools.

School lunch is always on duty with — P.T.A. — for talks as well as refreshment and an occasional dinner; with — Boy and Girl Scouts — for dinner and other entertainments; with — Class groups — for general supervision at selling refreshments at games, or dances; with — Dinners — Board of Education or Adult Education, or other administrative groups; with — coffee breaks — at meetings; with — Health Department — for an occasional need and the Home-making Department with whom we have occasionally worked closely.

We have worked with students with their class parties, students with their Honor Society dinners; clubs that were going on trips over the weekend fishing, teams leaving early for games at other schools, and teachers who needed a cup of coffee.

It is our aim to present the best possible lunch, at the lowest possible price, to the greatest number of students in the shortest amount of time and to spread a little good cheer at the same time... BETTY JANE BARRINGER, School Lunch Manager, Ontario Central Schools, Boiceville.

Y-Wives Will Hear Talk on Art; More Appointments Made

The Y-Wives will be the special guests of the Junior Married Women's Club at their meeting Thursday, March 16. John L. Stockmarr of New York City will discuss art as a hobby. Mr. Stockmarr is the father of Mrs. Richard Vigurs, membership chairman of the Junior Marrieds. The speaker, an accountant, has had art as a lifelong hobby but he dates his most satisfactory pieces from 1959 when he joined the Art Students League in New York. Since then he has had two paintings chosen for exhibit. He has studied the style of various schools, from classical to the modern which he will analyze for the group. His mediums have included charcoal and watercolors and he is now specializing in oils. In order to demonstrate the techniques of painting, he will do a portrait of his daughter.

Mrs. David VanEtten and her committee will be hostesses for the evening. Several appointments have been recently announced. Mrs. Robert Murray, president, has named Mrs. Kenneth Henebry, chairman of the annual spring dance; Mrs. Ronald O'Neill, coordinator of the Easter Seal volunteer group; and Mrs. Edward J. KHS Seeks Sectional Title Saturday Against Haverstraw

Phil Battaglia Sets City Seasonal Record on 765 Series

Class A Contest
Slated at 8:30
At OCCC Court

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

A rugged Haverstraw High school team stands in the way as the Kingston High cagers attempt to add the Section Nine Class A tournament to their DUSO title. The locals will collide with the Rockland champions on Saturday, 8:30 p. m., at the Orange County Community college gym in Middletown.

Haverstraw has a 17-2 record to date. Losses have been to Suffern and White Plains and both games were close. The team won the Rockland County league, beating second place Suffern by a game. It wallowed Clarkstown, which bowed to Kingston on Friday, by 17 points in its latest start.

Coached by Leonard Stirling, Haverstraw features two boys who go well over the six foot mark. Bob Eckroed the 6-4 center, is one of the leading scorers and is a top rebounder. Al Swan, at 6-3 and 225 pounds, is rugged and is also a double figure scorer. Senior John Clark, junior Pete Margiotta and sophomore Joe Joe Mackey complete the starting team.

Haverstraw stopped Newburgh, 56-53, on Friday at the Rockland County court. An all-court press forced the Goldbacks into making numerous errors and they trailed most of the second half after getting away to an 11-3 first quarter lead.

Not Impressive

The Maroon players of Coach John Gilligan were not impressive against Clarkstown. They lacked the zip and hustle that carried them to the league title and they must show marked improvement to beat Haverstraw.

In fact, if it were not for some heroics by reserve John Falvey, the Rams could very well have won the game. They led, 18-11, early in the second period before Falvey came in and sparked a comeback.

Coach Gilligan expects to start the same five which has opened every game this season. It includes Joe Uhl and Vinnie Smedes at forwards, John Duffner at center and Mike Ferraro and Al Brown at guards. Falvey will be the number one reserve, probably replacing Duffner.

If the KHS players come home with a triumph, it will mark the first sectional title for a team coached by Gilligan. Last year, the locals bowed, 67-57, to Poughkeepsie in the finals.

A Clean Sweep

Back in the 1947-48 season, one of the great clubs coached by G. Warren Kias captured the DUSO, sectional and sectional championships, finishing the year with a 20-0 record. Big Eddie Weaver starred on that five and Ronnie Scheffel was a promising sophomore.

Coach Kias won a couple of more sectional titles after the clean sweep but the 1947-48 accomplishment was a masterpiece. Since schools do not play in sectionals anymore, a league and sectional title is the best that can be accomplished today.

The preliminary contest on Saturday will decide the C championship. Livingston Manor, which has won 39 straight over a three season span, will probably be one of the finalists, against either Chester or Delaware Valley.

Chamberlain Breaks 10 NBA Records, Hits 3033

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain broke 10 all-time records during the National Basketball Association season, while Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Cincinnati's Oscar Robinson also had a hand in some record shattering.

In averaging 38.3 points for 79 games, Chamberlain was the first NBA player to score more than 3,000 points. He wound up with 3,033.

His records, in addition to average and scoring, are most field goals attempted, 1,054; highest field goal percentage, .506; most rebounds, 2,149; highest rebound average, 27.2; most minutes played, 3,773 and most games scoring 30 or more points, eight.

Robertson set an assist mark of 9.7 per contest, a total of 690 in 71 games. Boston's Bob Cousy still leads with numerical setups, 715.

Schayes' 676 free throws shattered the record of 667 set by Bob Pettit of St. Louis.

Pirates Take Over Opposition In Exhibitions

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, backing second-line pitching with the clutch hitting of their front-line batters, have run down all opposition in the early stages of the exhibition baseball season.

Getting a six-hit pitching performance from two rookies, the Pirates used Dick Schofield's two-run homer and a run-producing single by Joe Christopher for a 4-2 victory over the Kansas City A's Monday that brought their unbeaten record to 4-0.

The new Washington Senators also are undefeated after edging Baltimore's winless Orioles 14-13. The new Los Angeles Angels dropped their first in three games with a 16-13 loss to San Francisco Giants.

Elsewhere on a rain-shortened program, the transplanted Minnesota Twins made it into the victory column by whipping the New York Yankees 10-6, and the Chicago Cubs beat the Cleveland Indians 4-2.

The Detroit-Milwaukee, Cincinnati-St. Louis and Philadelphia-Los Angeles Dodgers games in Florida were canceled because of rain.

The Pirates clinched it in the fourth on Christopher's single before Smokey Burgess walked to force in a run and give pitching fledglings Tom Parsons, Al Jackson and Earl Francis some working room. Ken Johnson, who gave up Schofield's homer, took the loss for the A's.

Felipe Alou and rookie catcher Tom Haller led the Giants' attack in the seven-homer slugfest with two each while first-year outfielder Manuel Mota also homered, then tripled in a nine-run seventh inning uprising. Bob Cerv and Earl Averill connected for the Angels.

Earl Battey's grand slam homer in the ninth beat the winless Yankees after a three-run shot by Zorro Versalles and Harmon Killebrew's two-run blast had kept the Twins close. Shortstop Fritz Brickell paced the New York attack with a homer and three singles.

Health Nurse Is Praised for Her Kind Efficiency

An Ulster County Public Health Nurse, Miss Maria Brockema of Mt. Pleasant, has been highly praised for the efficient manner in which she performed her duty. The praise came from a Florida resident, Richard Henry Lee of Miami, who has written a letter of appreciation to the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Lee, in a communication to the Board of Supervisors, says he is "impelled to write in praise of one of your county employees, Miss Maria Brockema."

An elderly aunt of Mr. Lee, who had been a resident of Ulster County for many years, was unable to care for herself and had been staying with a friend in Shokan. Efforts to get the elderly lady to enter a nursing home were of no avail, and when the Shokan friend died last fall, Mr. Lee wrote "the situation became intolerable—there was nothing I could do from here."

The situation came to the attention of Miss Brockema who made arrangements for the elderly lady to enter a nursing home.

"Miss Brockema made arrangements to get my aunt into a nursing home, talked her into going—obtained medical care for her—undertook to move her and stored her personal effects, all with such efficiency and kindness that what might have been a tragedy has turned out to be a Godsend," Mr. Lee wrote.

"I am very grateful. I thought you would like to know—" he concludes.

Crotty, JFK Favorite, Under Fire Already

Prendergast to Serve Out Term, Denies Quitting as Demo Chief

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast says he intends to "serve out at least my full term, which runs until 1962."

In reiterating that he will not resign, he added:

"It is quite possible that I will be involved in the fall campaign of 1962 in either a dual or singular capacity."

No Hint on Office

Prendergast gave no indication of what public office he might seek.

The state chairman, who telephoned a statement to his office here Monday from Miami Beach, said a "noisy few" were responsible for the new flareup of reports that he would quit because of the lack of federal patronage to the state organization.

The statement came about the same time that speculation spread in Washington that Peter J. Crotty, Erie County party leader and a labor lawyer, is a favorite of President Kennedy for state chairman if party leaders force out Prendergast at a meeting scheduled here March 23.

The speculation arose after Crotty conferred with the President at the White House for 15 minutes. Presidential aides called the visit "purely social."

Revolt at New Peak

But the visit of the Buffalo Democrat took on added significance because it came at a time when the revolt against Prendergast was at a new peak.

The Kennedy administration is said to want Prendergast replaced as state chairman. And Democrats in the state have been complaining that Prendergast and Carmine G. DeSapio, Democratic national committeeman and leader of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Party organization, are not getting any federal patronage.

Some party leaders both in New York City and Upstate are said to have been told that patronage would be dealt out to the organization if Prendergast were replaced. Crotty has powerful backing among a number of city and Upstate party leaders.

May Be Asked to Quit

During the weekend, Charles H. Keene of Syracuse, Onondaga County Democratic Chairman, said that if Prendergast did not resign at the meeting of the Democratic state executive committee here March 23, the members might ask him to step out. Keene said "that's the way the Kennedys want it."

When Prendergast's statement was issued here, he was with DeSapio in Miami Beach to see the Patterson-Johnson fight and attend a party for national Democratic chieftains.

In Washington, Rep. William Fitts Ryan of Manhattan, who is allied with the insurgent group, said removal of Prendergast would help solve the party's problems.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, Schenectady Democrat, said in Washington that he is "solidly behind" President Kennedy. Stratton said it is no secret that Kennedy wants new leadership in the New York State Democratic Committee.

Attack Qualifications

After Crotty and his wife visited the President and Crotty's political stock rose, a group of seven Manhattan members of the Democratic State Committee who are aligned with the insurgents issued a statement here opposing Crotty for state chairman.

Attacking Crotty's qualifications, the seven said the state chairmanship should be considered more than a patronage dispensing post. Failure to take a larger view, they said, would not satisfy an electorate that has "clearly lost confidence in the present state party leadership."

The statement called Crotty "one of the architects of the 1958 debacle."

The reference was to the 1958 democratic state convention at Buffalo, at which Erie County votes were among those cast for Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Jogan, DeSapio's choice, for the U. S. senatorial nomination.

Crotty was nominated for attorney general, but he failed to win the Liberal Party's nomination as other Democratic state candidates did.

Kennedy's Plea Rules Out Tieup At Atomic Site

HANFORD, Wash. (AP)—A last-minute plea from President Kennedy ward off a strike of 3,500 workers at the sprawling Hanford Atomic Products operation, late Monday night.

The President sent telegrams to the principal officials concerned, saying "because of the nature of the operation at the plant" he urged the strike deadline be set back from 12:01 a. m. today to midnight March 31.

A contract dispute began 7½ months ago between the Hanford Atomic Metal Trades Council and General Electric Co., which operates the science center in southeastern Washington where atomic materials are produced.

At issue are wages, holidays, vacation, sick leave, insurance and several other matters.

At present, the average pay is about $3 an hour. The company offered a three-year contract with a three per cent raise immediately and with a four per cent raise next year, qualified by a number of options. The union asked a two-year contract with a five per cent raise each year.

General Electric employs about 8,000 persons at its big nuclear factory near the Columbia River.

Now an atomic reactor is being built there to operate on plutonium and help the Columbia River dams produce power for the Pacific Northwest.

Dutchess Woman Dies of Burns

An 88-year-old Poughkeepsie woman, who suffered third degree burns over 80 per cent of her body after her robe caught fire in her home, died in St. Francis' Hospital at 7:45 p. m. Monday.

Police Lieut. George Traver said Mrs. Carrie Bond, 202 North Hamilton Street, apparently lit a match in her home Saturday and her robe ignited. Her screams attracted her daughter, Miss Esther Bond, who was talking on the telephone in an adjoining room.

Miss Bond ran to the aid of her mother, and extinguished the flames that burned Mrs. Bond's clothing. Miss Bond suffered painful burns of the hands and arms. She was treated at the hospital.

Mrs. Gus Terry, a neighbor and her husband rushed to the second floor apartment to assist in putting out the fire.

Mrs. Bond's husband, William, a former Highland farmer, died about six years ago. The family moved from Highland to Newburgh and about nine years ago to Poughkeepsie.

Baumann said shortly after he entered the house Saturday night militiamen came to ask if he had broke the seal.

The Cuban Foreign Ministry charged him with an "unheard of violation of Cuban laws."

Dutchess Probes New-Born Death

Poughkeepsie police today continued investigation of the death of a new-born boy, whose body was found in the Val-kill near the Hudson River Saturday afternoon.

Dutchess County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester Golding said an autopsy disclosed the infant died of a fractured skull. He gave a finding of homicide, and said the body apparently had been dead not more than a day.

Police Chief John L. Martin assigned by detectives in charge of Sgt. James Murphy and Detective Francis Doerr to check local physicians and hospitals for any information that might lead to the identity of the infant's mother.

The body was found Saturday afternoon by Richard R. Travis, 12, of 289 Mill Street, and Roger F. Haight, 15, of 41 Tulip Street, both Poughkeepsie, who were fishing in the Val-kill. The boys notified police.

Boy, 14, Slays Mother, Teased About Perfume

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—"Dad, I don't know what happened. I just went blank."

Rino Ruscitti, a factory worker, told police that was all his 14-year-old son Edward could tell him about the rifle slaying Monday of the boy's mother in the kitchen of their home.

Police said Edward, a slender high school freshman, fired three bullets from a 22 caliber rifle into Mrs. Ruscitti, 41, when she teased him about some perfume a girl schoolmate had spilled on his sweater.

Then he telephoned police, investigators said. The boy was charged with juvenile delinquency because of his age and held for children's court action.

Police said his anger over the teasing appeared to be the only motive for the slaying. The father, at work at the time of the shooting, said the rifle belonged to Edward. He has another son, Richard, 19, a student at Michigan State University.

While on his way to his school crossing traffic post Monday afternoon, Frank Simpson, 66, of 110 Garden Street, Poughkeepsie, suffered a fatal heart attack and collapsed, according to Police Lieut. George Traver.

Traver said the school crossing guard was on his way to the intersection of Mansion and North Hamilton Streets, when he suffered the seizure. He was pronounced dead at the scene.
